OPPN CHURN AS DMK TO SKIP MONDAY MEET

Centre engaging with DMK and TMC amidst buzz on second shot at delimitation bill

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

THE Opposition INDIA bloc appears headed for a major churn, with two of its key constituents — the DMK and the Trinamool Congress — grappling with challenges that could test the alliance's unity and future.

On Thursday, the DMK announced it would skip the INDIA bloc meeting on June 8, citing discontent over Congress "betrayal". Long-time allies Congress and DMK are at loggerheads after the grand old party joined the Vijay-led TVK government in Tamil Nadu following the DMK alliance's defeat in the assembly polls. "While the DMK will not attend this meeting, it will continue, as always, to raise its voice on issues affecting the welfare of the nation that may be brought forward by the other parties participating in the meeting," said a party statement.

Incidentally, the DMK received approval from the Lok Sabha secretariat on Thursday to sit separate from the Congress.

Though TMC chief Mamata Banerjee and party general secretary Abhishek Banerjee are expected to attend the June 8 meeting, their party appears to be on the brink of a upheaval, with speculation on a exodus of its parliamentarians. The unrest follows a rebel faction backed by 58 MLAs claiming to be the "real TMC". At least nine TMC Lok Sabha MPs and three Rajya Sabha members are said to be negotiating with the BJP. Besides, sources said at least two Lok Sabha MPs are in touch with the Congress. With 28 MPs in the Lok Sabha and 13 in the Rajya Sabha, the TMC remains the third-largest party after the BJP and the Congress.

The developments come amid speculation that the Centre is likely to reintroduce the delimitation bill during the upcoming Monsoon Session and has been engaging with the DMK and TMC to strengthen its position. In the previous Budget session, the constitutional amendment linking delimitation to the women's reservation bill was defeated by the Opposition, though the NDA held 298 seats in the LS. With the DMK and TMC holding 22 and 28 MPs respectively, all eyes are now on the two parties.

India, Venezuela agree to deepen ties

JAYANTH JACOB @ New Delhi

INDIA and Venezuela on Thursday agreed to deepen cooperation in energy and explore a broader economic partnership spanning critical minerals, pharmaceuticals, agriculture, automobiles and mining, as Prime Minister Narendra Modi held extensive talks with Venezuelan acting President Delcy Rodriguez.

The meeting came at a time when India is seeking to diversify crude oil supplies following disruptions in global energy markets caused by the West Asia crisis, while Venezuela is looking to expand export markets and attract investment after years of the US sanctions-related isolation.

The focal point of the talks was on long-term energy partnership, with both sides highlighting their natural complementarity. "They see India as a stable demander for many years to come. Therefore, there exists a perfect complementarity for India and Venezuela to work in the energy sector, in both upstream and downstream," Secretary (East) in the External Affairs Ministry Rudrendra Tandon told reporters after the meeting.

GBA CHIEF: SIR WILL GO SMOOTH, 72% OF MAPPING WORK DONE

Says data will be reconciled before publication of draft electoral roll

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

DISTRICT Election Officer and Greater Bengaluru Authority (GBA) Commissioner M Maheshwar Rao stated that all necessary preparations have been made for the smooth conduct of the Special Intensive Revision (SIR) of electoral rolls and 72% of the mapping work has already been completed within Bengaluru city limits.

Addressing a press conference regarding the SIR of electoral rolls here on Thursday, Rao said that directions have been issued to complete the remaining mapping work at the earliest.

"Booth Level Officers (BLOs) will conduct door-to-door visits and collect the required information through prescribed forms. Citizens are requested to extend their full cooperation for this exercise. The collected data will subsequently be verified and reconciled before the publication of the draft electoral roll," he said.

The revision exercise is being carried out in accordance with the guidelines issued by the Election Commission of India, he added.

Rao appealed to the registered and recognised political parties to appoint one Booth Level Agent (BLA) for each polling station and submit their lists immediately. "Before commencing the house-to-house survey, Electoral Registration Officers and BLOs will hold meetings with BLAs to brief them about the SIR schedule and related activities. The ECI has provided an opportunity for political parties to actively participate in the SIR process. Until the publication of the draft electoral roll, political parties may submit up to 50 forms per day to BLOs. After the publication of the draft roll, they will have to submit up to 10 forms only per day," said Rao.

As part of the preparatory activities for SIR-2026, the process of mapping the 2025 electoral roll with the 2002 electoral roll is currently underway. As per the directions of the Chief Electoral Officer, Karnataka, the E-Roll will be frozen on 16.06.2026. Necessary steps will therefore be taken to dispose of all pending applications under Forms 6, 6A, 7 and 8 within the stipulated period, Rao said.

The group called for a through introspection from all stakeholders in the hospitality sector and implementation of measures beyond "knee-jerk" reactions. Trustee RA Venkitachalam said, "Seldom have we seen any effort to study the true cause of the fire, any intention to see who should be held accountable or what steps are to be taken to avoid a repetition of similar nature anywhere in the country," and called into question the no objection certificates (NOCs) granted to questionable establishments. The group laid five demands, including asking the fire forensic audit report to be made public. It also called for the maintenance of fire protection systems, clear exits and emergency preparedness plans. It also posited fire safety knowledge as a life skill, urging every citizen to know the basics. It urged all agencies beyond the fire department to work together to prevent fires and demanded a comprehensive city plan for fire safety to identify local risk zones. ENS

Govt can't acquire land at cost of poor landowners: HC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE High Court of Karnataka has said that acquiring land for a profit-making entity for its expansion would not be in accordance with the Karnataka Industrial Area Development Board (KIADB) Act and it is nothing but a fraud committed on statute by the authorities to divest people of their land for a pittance.

This kind of exercise of power is a statutory and constitutional fraud by the authorities, the court said while quashing the land acquired for a parking zone of the Bangalore International Exhibition Centre (BIEC).

A division bench of Justice DK Singh and Justice TM Nadaf made these remarks on June 3 over acquisition of the land in question for the parking zone of BIEC established by M/s Indian Machine Tools Manufacturers' Association (IMTMA).

"The entire exercise of acquiring the land in question for IMTMA was vitiated under the constitutional scheme," the bench said.

Allowing a batch of appeals filed by landowners in 2013 and dismissing appeals filed by KIADB and IMTMA, and setting aside the order passed by a single judge, the bench quashed the land acquisition.

"As no award has been made determining compensation for 14 long years from the date of the final notification, we are of the view that the land acquisition proceedings have lapsed. The state could not have acquired the land for a private entity which is a profitable venture, as is evident from the financial statements mentioned for 4-5 years," the bench observed.

The bench noted that the object of the Act is to acquire land for the purpose of setting up industrial areas and not for an individual entity. After setting up an industrial area, the government may allot land to an applicant for setting up an industry there. The government cannot acquire land for an individual entity of its choice at the expense and cost of poor landowners. Acquisition of land or property of individuals in exercise of powers of eminent domain must not be a conveyable exercise or fraud on statute or merely a device to transfer land to private hands, the bench observed.

Metro usage can improve quality of life: IISc

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

A STUDY by Indian Institute of Science (IISc) has found that the Namma Metro Yellow Line connecting RV Road and Bommasandra can significantly improve commuters' health and quality of life by encouraging greater physical activity, reducing exposure to air pollution and easing commute stress. The report found strong willingness among commuters to shift to the metro, while highlighting the need for affordable fares, better last-mile connectivity and safer pedestrian infrastructure.

The study by IISc Sustainable Transportation Lab with support from Biocon Foundation, ELCIA and the Bengaluru Science and Technology Cluster (BeST), surveyed 600 commuters and residents along the corridor before and 150 commuters of the 600 respondents after the the inauguration of Yellow Line for the public. Researchers examined changes in physical activity, environmental exposure, mental wellbeing, social connectivity and overall quality of life.

According to the findings, 83% of respondents expressed willingness to shift to the Yellow Line. The study highlighted a concerning lack of physical activity among residents, with 58% reporting no regular exercise. Metro use is expected to add 10–15 minutes of walking per commute, contributing up to 75 minutes of moderate physical activity each week.

Researchers also found that metro users would face significantly lower exposure to harmful particulate matter pollution and heat compared to pedestrians and two-wheeler riders. Improved accessibility and travel satisfaction were linked to better mental well-being, with respondents reporting reduced fatigue and improved work-life balance. The study further noted benefits such as stronger social interaction, enhanced workplace productivity and lower road accident risks due to reduced dependence on two-wheelers.

The study identified key barriers to metro adoption, including fare affordability, inadequate last-mile connectivity and poor pedestrian infrastructure around stations. Researchers called for differential fare policies, improved feeder services, better parking facilities and safer footpaths to maximise the metro's benefits.

BRAND BENGALURU VISION

BWSSB aims to position city as a global centre for water innovation

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

IN a landmark initiative aligned with the 'Brand Bengaluru' vision, the Bangalore Water Supply and Sewerage Board (BWSSB) is exploring the establishment of the Bengaluru Global Water Innovation Network (BGWIN), an ambitious international platform aimed at transforming Bengaluru into a globally recognised hub for water innovation, urban water security, and sustainable infrastructure development, said BWSSB Chairman Ram Prasath Manohar.

He said that BGWIN is conceived as a first-of-its-kind global collaboration platform, and it will bring together leading water utilities, government agencies, universities, research institutions, industry leaders, startups, incubators, investors, and civil society organisations to collectively address emerging challenges in the water and wastewater sector.

"The initiative is designed to strengthen Bengaluru's position as a global leader in urban water management by fostering innovation, accelerating technology adoption, promoting international collaboration, and building a future-ready ecosystem to address the growing challenges posed by rapid urbanisation, climate change, and resource scarcity. The initiative will support research, policy development, technology validation, and capacity building while aligning closely with the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), particularly SDG-6 (Clean Water and Sanitation), SDG-7 (Affordable and Clean Energy), and SDG-11 (Sustainable Cities and Communities)," stated Manohar in a release.

A key pillar of the initiative will be the establishment of a state-of-the-art Centre of Excellence, housing a dedicated Technology Innovation Hub focused on advanced research in artificial intelligence-driven predictive analytics, smart metering systems, decentralized water treatment technologies, water reuse solutions, and next-generation utility management practices, he added and said, "By testing innovations in real-world operating conditions, BWSSB aims to reduce investment risks, improve technology adoption outcomes, and accelerate the transition towards smarter and more efficient utility operations."

BWSSB officials said the network will also contribute to the development of progressive regulatory frameworks and policy interventions through collaborations with international universities, innovation ecosystems, development agencies, and non-governmental organisations. BWSSB believes the initiative will significantly elevate Bengaluru's profile in global water forums, international conferences, and industry awards while positioning the city at the forefront of next-generation urban water governance.

HOLIDAY MATHIS

05th June : Lunar Agitation to Mars A feeling kindles. You notice it. You give it a little space to inform you, because feelings are data, but they aren't facts. They're excellent at telling you something matters, something hurts or something seems right. They're less reliable at explaining why or bringing supporting evidence. The feeling is real. The interpretation is a draft. Don't act on it until you know more.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
With a little sleuthing, you'll gather the evidence you need to draw a conclusion. But is it the correct answer? The key to that is staying open-minded, which is much easier when you're not invested in any particular outcome.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 - May 20)
Not making a move is also a decision -- one that keeps everything in a holding pattern, and there's nothing wrong with that. Such patterns cannot hold indefinitely. So far, the new day has always come. It won't disappoint.

GEMINI (May 21 - June 21)
Even when you play it low-key, the spotlight finds you. Or maybe it's actually coming from inside you, this glow that follows you wherever you go. That would make more sense. It's the ever-present presence you don't have to perform.

CANCER (June 22 - July 22)
It's a day to watch your words. Offer perspective, not control. Ask questions; don't issue verdicts. Leave them room to decide. If they struggle, you may choose to say something. Do it gently and without assuming you're the authority.

LEO (July 23 - Aug. 22)
You're curious, adventurous and emboldened to try new things. It may seem counterintuitive, but it's your familiar behaviors, rituals and routines that make it possible for you to feel at home in new circumstances.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 - Sept. 22)
Something that is very easy to you is quite laborious to others. This is your gift, even though it might be hard to see it as such right now. You will leverage your talent and efficiencies to ease the load for others.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 - Oct. 23)
The boundaries will be made clear. Either the world will show you where they are, or you'll show the world where they are. You get to choose where this is a proactive or reactive situation.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 21)
Your team feels small today, and you're not sure how to grow it. You'll wonder: Who can help and why would they? There's a way to include others that benefits everyone without you being on the line for every salary or reward.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 - Dec. 21)
You wouldn't dream of relying on anyone but yourself to fulfill your wishes, compound your joy or stoke the fires of your happiness. But when they do chip in and make you smile, you'll be over the moon.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 - Jan. 19)
Today you're a little psychic and a lot psychologically astute. No one totally knows what's going on in another person's mind, but you come close with your excellent guesses. Act on your prediction.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18)
Protect your current projects by saying no to new ones. Don't forget that you tend to give things your all, and many things take two to three times as much time and energy than advertised.

PISCES (Feb. 19 - Mar 20)
Sometimes you can get a better understanding of what you're dealing with by backing up for a wide view. And sometimes getting closer to it is what helps you more. Instinct and answers kick in after you magnify certain details.

SRIKI MONEY LAUNDERING CASE

Crypto trader Robin identified as main conduit

YATHIRAJU @ Bengaluru

INVESTIGATION by the Directorate of Enforcement (ED) disclosed that crypto trader Robin Khandelwal is the main conduit used by hacker Srikrishna aka Sriki, for laundering proceeds of crime since 2016-17 onwards for the cut, and has operated multiple crypto accounts, including trading platforms outside India, and made several cross-border payments. The ED also found that Robin from West Bengal had changed ownership of a domain named dharmasthala.org. This was substantiated in the examination of WhatsApp chats between Sriki and him.

Recording his statement with the ED in May 2026, under Section 50 of the PMLA, 2002, Robin said he had undertaken the ownership change through a website namecheap.com and the payment was made in bitcoins. When ED questioned him on how he obtained the bitcoins, he could provide no plausible source. The probe revealed that Robin had incorporated business entities in the UK, but had not disclosed them. He had made a large number of cross-border remittances using platforms like Mobikwik and Moneypolo but had not provided statements of such wallet accounts till date, despite being required to do under PMLA.

The recent probe by ED leading to the arrest of Robin also revealed he had incorporated two entities, Sigma Trading Corporation Ltd, London, and Supriore Solutions Ltd, London, in the UK and opened a bank account in their name with Wise.com based in the UK. However, he did not provide access to the bank account during investigation. The stolen virtual digital assets were provided to Robin by Srikrishna, which were then sold by Robin through various crypto trading platforms for earning commission, Srikrishna told the ED. The real transactions were not disclosed by Robin in his books, only to obfuscate the true origin of proceeds of crime.

The ED came to the conclusion that Robin had directly attempted to indulge, knowingly assisted, is knowingly a party and actually involved in a process or activity connected with the proceeds of crime and its possession, acquisition, concealment, etc. He was evasive during questioning under PMLA, which hindered the probe.

PROXY TRADING IN TN TAILOR'S NAME

Robin claimed he sold bitcoins on an online platform to a person named Usha Selvam, and the resultant sale proceeds were routed to the bank account of a man, who lost money. But investigation reveals that Usha Selvam is a tailor based in Vridhachalam in Tamil Nadu who is not involved in any crypto trading. The probe revealed that this aspect clearly fits into the modus operandi of the case for money laundering: the stolen VDAs are hidden in web-based cloud servers and the same were sold through crypto brokers.

Jealous man kills beautician wife for dressing up

PRAVEEN KUMAR @ Bengaluru

AFTER years of suspicion and acrimony, N Mahadev finally killed his 38-year-old beautician wife, all because she dressed up well while going to work.

At 11.15am on Wednesday, Mahadev locked the bedroom door and started fighting with his wife, then slit her throat with a kitchen knife, while his parents and sons kept banging on the door. The incident took place in Somanahalli village in Kaggalipura. Mahadev (42), a driver, was arrested.

NB Bhagya worked in a beauty parlour, and was fond of dressing up, which led Mahadev to suspect her fidelity. Since the past five years, the accused is alleged to have started harassing her over this issue, and even beating her if he found her talking to anyone on the phone. Unable to bear the harassment, Bhagya had gone to her sister Sowmya's house in Uttarahalli on Monday, police said. s

On Tuesday, Mahadev went to Sowmya's house to bring his wife back. When she refused to come back with him, they fought again. The accused also placed a condition that she should stop going to work and not use the phone. Bhagya agreed to his conditions, and the couple returned home on Wednesday.

They were married 19 years ago and have two sons aged 17 and 12.

"Around 11am, the accused locked the room door and started fighting with his wife. He did not open the door even when his family members started banging on the door. After 20 minutes, he opened the door and the family members saw the victim lying in a pool of blood. After throwing the knife in the room, the accused went outside. The family reported the matter to the police immediately and the accused was arrested within some time," a police officer said.

Sowmya filed a complaint against the accused. A case of murder under Section 103(1) of BNS was registered against Mahadev by the Kaggalipura police.

Suspended secretary runs off with society documents, records, FIR filed

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE current secretary of an agricultural co-operative society in Harohalli has filed a police complaint against a suspended secretary for taking away eight important records and documents belonging to the society.

Due to the missing documents, the society was unable to conduct its annual audit and carry out day-to-day administrative functions. The accused is said to have taken away the documents as it was vital evidence against his alleged misappropriation of funds to the society. A criminal case under Section 109(10) of the Karnataka Cooperative Societies Act, 1959 is registered by the Harohalli police.

The complaint was filed against SC Umesh, the suspended Secretary of the Kolliganahalli Vividhodesha Primary Rural Agricultural Cooperative Society at Kolliganahalli in Harohalli on Tuesday. SC Umesh had worked as the secretary of the society from April 28, 2011 to February 26, 2026. The society's Board of Directors suspended SC Umesh on March 13 after discovering the misappropriation of funds during his tenure. SC Umesh, after his suspension, allegedly failed to hand over the records and equipment belonging to society.

The Assistant Registrar granted permission to break open the lock of the society office. Upon opening the premises, eight important records/documents relating to the society were found missing.

Cable firm MD held by ED in ₹899 crore scam

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE Directorate of Enforcement (ED), Bengaluru Zonal Office has arrested Karuturi Venkateshwara Rao, Managing Director of Deepak Cables (India) Limited (DCIL), under section 19 of the Prevention of Money Laundering Act, 2002 on Tuesday, as part of the investigation in the case of DCIL and others in the matter related to defrauding consortium of banks led by SBI.

ED initiated a probe based on an FIR registered by CBI against DCIL, its MD, and others, for allegedly cheating a consortium of banks to the extent of Rs 899.35 crore by obtaining large credit facilities and diverting the loan funds. The company allegedly submitted falsified financial statements and manipulated books of accounts to secure and continue availing bank loans.

ED further revealed that the accused used multiple entities for fictitious sales and purchases, circular trading, and issuance of fake corporate guarantees. These transactions were utilized to artificially inflate turnover, increase drawing power from banks, evergreen existing loans, and divert the Proceeds of Crime through related companies and personal accounts, thereby concealing their illicit origin. It was also found out that huge amounts of loan funds were diverted to the related entities under the control of Rao without any business rationale and doubtful purpose, according to a press release from ED.

On the basis of material in possession there were sufficient reasons to believe that Rao is guilty of the offence of money laundering; that he generated the POC; layered and integrated the funds by using various bank accounts belonging to entities operated and associated with him. Therefore, Rao was arrested and was produced before the Special Court, Bengaluru and Court granted 10 days custody of Rao to ED.

Earlier, in this case searches were conducted wherein gold jewellery and cash amounting to Rs.1.27 Crore were seized and bank accounts having balance of Rs. 18 Crore were frozen.

SHIVAKUMAR PITCHES FOR PEOPLE-CENTRIC ADMINISTRATION

CM says officials, staff working at the grassroots are face of govt, play crucial role in building public trust; increase field visits and engage directly with public

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

A day after taking oath as Karnataka Chief Minister, DK Shivakumar, in his maiden meeting with senior officials, stressed the need for a people-centric administration.

Shivakumar said government officials and staff working at the grassroots level are the face of the government and play a crucial role in building public trust.

He directed officials to ensure that people have confidence in the administration and its services.

Shivakumar told reporters after the meeting that there would be no place for caste, religion, influence, or pressure in the administration, and asked officials to adopt a positive approach while understanding people's concerns.

He directed all the departments to submit action plans within 15 days, keeping their manifestos, availability of funds, and budgets in mind, and said that every initiative must be accountable. Shivakumar also instructed officials not to yield to pressure from anyone, including MLAs, ministers or even the CM's office, and to function strictly within the framework of law.

The Chief Minister asked officials to increase field visits and engage directly with people at the taluk level to address local issues effectively.

Shivakumar said that the district in-charge secretaries have been instructed to submit reports within 25 days on both pending works and new projects that can be taken up within the available financial resources. Later, district in-charge ministers will be directed to tour their respective districts and provide the necessary guidance and support for implementation.

Chief Minister DK Shivakumar chairs a meeting of additional chief secretaries, principal secretaries and secretaries in Bengaluru on Thursday. Deputy CM Dr G Parameshwara, Chief Secretary Shalini Rajneesh and others were present | EXPRESS

On the ongoing Special Intensive Revision (SIR), the CM said no citizen should lose their voting rights during the SIR of the electoral roll. He directed officials to launch awareness drives, set up help desks and facilitate issuance of residence certificates to help eligible voters complete the registration process. District commissioners and tahsildars have been asked to take necessary measures to ensure no voter is left out.

On the financial burden of Rs 10 lakh each to 10,000 Bharath Jodo youth association across the state, the CM said there will be a financial burden while taking up any work. "We shall later provide details on this," he added.

On the revision of the Gruha Jyothi scheme, Shivakumar said complaints have been received regarding misuse of the scheme, with some consumers claiming the 200-unit free power benefit while using electricity for commercial purposes. He said around 1.6 crore consumers are availing the benefit individually and the government is collecting data on beneficiaries, including cases where multiple electricity meters are registered in the name of a single person.

The CM also said the functioning of Karnataka Bhavan in New Delhi is not satisfactory. He added that a separate meeting will be held with serving and retired officials to discuss reforms and establish a dedicated cell that will monitor developments in other states, suggest new initiatives for Karnataka and help draw the Centre's attention to the state's key projects and priorities.

He also announced that the Police Department has been instructed to constitute special task forces in every taluk to curb rowdy elements and prevent unlawful activities.

PRESENT WHITE PAPER ON STATE'S FINANCES: BJP TO CM

LoP in the Assembly R Ashoka urged CM DK Shivakumar to table a white paper on state finances to place the true state of the state's finances before the people. He said Kerala CM VD Satheesan has done the right thing by tabling a white paper. "People have the right to know the financial legacy left behind by former CM Siddaramaiah. How much debt has the state accumulated? What is the real condition of Karnataka's finances? How much fiscal damage has been caused by years of reckless spending and vote-bank politics? How much of Karnataka's future has been burdened by fiscal mismanagement?" the BJP leader said. Ashoka said if the Congress government has nothing to hide, it must table a Financial White Paper in the Assembly immediately. Chief Whip of the Opposition in the Council N Ravi Kumar said the BJP is of the firm view that the state is totally bankrupt owing to funding for the five guarantees and there are no funds to take up developmental activities. Ashoka said the new government formed under the leadership of Shivakumar will be run by the remote control of LoP in Lok Sabha Rahul Gandhi and Siddaramaiah. He said that the change of CM in the state is like changing the poster of an old movie.

Karnataka to set up public grievance, NRI secretariats

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

KARNATAKA Chief Minister DK Shivakumar on Thursday announced that the government will establish separate secretariats for public grievances and Non-Resident Indians (NRIs). A dedicated minister will hear complaints and demands from people visiting Bengaluru, while the NRI Secretariat will facilitate engagement with overseas Indians and promote investments in Karnataka, he said. Officials concerned have been directed to frame the necessary legislation for the initiative, the chief minister said.

Speaking to reporters after he held a meeting with senior officials, Shivakumar said a separate secretariat will be established to hear and address public grievances, particularly those of people staging protests and demonstrations in Bengaluru and other parts of the state. The chief minister also said several groups approach the government every day with various demands and issues, and their grievances must be heard. He said the facts behind their demands shall be verified and a prompt response will be provided. There is a need for a dedicated secretariat to hold discussions with the representatives of protesting groups and facilitate timely resolution of their concerns, he said.

On the proposed NRI Secretariat, Shivakumar said, "I have directed officials to frame appropriate legislation to facilitate engagement with Indians living abroad and to encourage NRI investments in Karnataka. The proposed secretariat will serve as a dedicated platform to support overseas Indians and promote investment opportunities in the state." Stressing on Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) funds in Karnataka, the CM said there is nearly Rs 8,000 crore available under CSR funds in the state. However, there is no information which organisations are utilising these funds and for what purposes. "Therefore, companies must inform the government about the utilisation of CSR funds in Karnataka," he said.

Shivakumar said his disposition has already initiated the construction of Karnataka Public Schools under CSR funding, with one school for every three gram panchayats. "The government is according high priority to primary education and we will write to companies, requesting them to utilise their CSR funds for this sector. A detailed framework on this will be announced in the next five or six days. After meeting the needs of primary education, these funds will be directed towards the healthcare sector," he said.

Mallikarjun Kharge | Pawan Khera | Mansoor Khan

Kharge, Pawan Khera, Mansoor cleared for RS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

OPPOSITION leader Rahul Gandhi is expected to arrive in Bengaluru on Friday to ensure smooth filing of nominations for key seats in the upcoming biennial elections to the Rajya Sabha. Party sources indicate that Gandhi's visit aims to iron out last-minute details ahead of the polls. The high command is particularly focused on nominations involving senior leaders, including AICC President Mallikarjun Kharge, former Bangalore Central candidate Mansoor Khan, and national AICC spokesperson Pawan Khera, primarily for the Rajya Sabha with the party poised to win three of four seats from Karnataka.

For the seven MLCs to be elected from the Assembly quota, the Congress has so far fielded only four candidates -- BK Hariprasad, Tippannappa Kamakanur, PV Mohan and Shivanna Malavalli. There are now discussions within the party about fielding a fifth candidate before the June 8 nomination deadline.

In Karnataka's 224-member Assembly, there are two vacancies -- one is due to the death of minister and Hiriyur MLA D Sudhakar.

An MLC candidate requires 29 first-preference votes under the Single Transferable Vote (STV) system to get elected. The 'Droop quota' formula -- (Total valid votes / (Number of seats + 1)) + 1 -- translates to this threshold when seven seats are in play.

With approximately 136-140 MLAs supporting Congress (including independents), the party falls just four votes short of comfortably securing a fifth seat on first-preference votes alone. Party strategists believe that by putting up a fifth candidate, they can stretch their numbers and potentially clinch an extra seat, and are headed for a comfortable majority in the Upper House.

However, this move carries risks. The opposition, primarily the BJP, is also a few votes short of securing a third seat comfortably. While both sides can bag their core seats through disciplined voting, the battle for the seventh seat is expected to turn into a tough contest, possibly hinging on cross-voting, abstentions, or last-minute negotiations. Congress leaders argue that fielding only four candidates initially was a cautious approach to avoid internal rebellion and unnecessary dependence on transfers. Now, with Rahul Gandhi's direct intervention, the party appears ready to test its full strength for a potential fifth seat.

Chief Minister DK Shivakumar has said that the fifth candidate's name will be announced on Friday.

Political analyst Prof PS Jayaramu said, "RS seats should not be a problem for victory, although I am not in favour of outsiders being accommodated here for no material gains for the State... As far as MLC seats are concerned, putting up a fifth candidate is worth taking a risk in view of Shivakumar's capabilities of ensuring victory. But Rahul Gandhi's voice will finally prevail."

Results for both Rajya Sabha and MLC polls are expected on June 18 itself.

Those who want power can go with DKS, says KPCC chief Hariprasad

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI
@ Bengaluru

KARNATAKA Pradesh Congress Committee (KPCC) President BK Hariprasad on Thursday said that those who want power and position can go with Chief Minister DK Shivakumar. Those who want to strengthen the struggle of Rahul Gandhi, Mallikarjuna Kharge, Sonia Gandhi, and Priyanka Gandhi can come with me, he said.

Hariprasad, an MLC, was appointed the state Congress president on Wednesday.

Speaking to reporters he, however, clarified that he has been involved in the party since he was a student with the blessings of the high command. "I have never said that I want a ministerial position. I am a foot soldier of the party," he said.

"I will follow the ideals of our elders and fulfill my responsibility. This country is at a crossroads. It doesn't matter whether I belong to a backward class or an advanced class. I am more advanced than the advanced. It is a propaganda of WhatsApp University that I am the Chief Ministerial candidate for 2028. I have the responsibility of building the party," he said.

He said that he has the responsibility to fight against the Special Intensive Revision (SIR) of the voter list and the Citizenship (Amendment) Act (CAA).

"We should hit the streets and fight. We do not want the Gujarat model. I am proud of the Karnataka model. There is no colour in it. We will work in coordination with the government and the party," he said.

Later, Hariprasad called on Shivakumar and held discussions on the political situation in the state.

Dynamic between CM & KPCC chief challenge for Cong brass

The Congress high command has a challenge ahead—the coordination and dynamic between CM Shivakumar and KPCC chief BK Hariprasad. They are poles apart in their approach to Hindutva and it would be a nervy test for the high command to keep the party and the government on the same page in the run up to the 2028 Assembly polls.

Hariprasad had switched to the Siddaramaiah camp a year before. Now, the Siddaramaiah camp is likely to align with Hariprasad creating another power centre. But it is to be seen how long Siddaramaiah's sway over his supporters will sustain, say analysts.

According to party insiders, Hariprasad may continue his arm-twisting approach with DK Shivakumar but will be nudged by the high command. Both of them are the picks of Congress Parliamentary Party (CPP) chief Sonia Gandhi and her daughter, Priyanka Gandhi Vadra, the Wayanad MP. Hariprasad, a leader without mass base, has been made the KPCC chief to ensure that there will be no more power centres in the state, they added.

Hariprasad has to rely on Shivakumar to mobilise resources to run the show. While addressing the party workers, Shivakumar has said that he will continue to be part and parcel of the party's affairs. "For the party to do well in elections, Shivakumar's support is inevitable," a Congress leader said.

Hariprasad is likely to continue to attack the RSS over Hindutva issues which would be branded by the opposition as Muslim appeasement.

Shivakumar is likely to pursue his 'soft Hindutva' approach if Wednesday's swearing in ceremony was any indication. Scores of Hindu religious heads attended the event at the insistence of Shivakumar. But electorally it is to be seen how the conflicting approaches strike a chord with the voters which may give rich dividends or spell doom for the party, according to analysts.

The BJP, in all probability, would mock the Congress to drive home a point that the party's dual approach is just a symbolism to appease the voters, they observed.

'NO SETBACK'

GOP followed 'one person, one post' policy: Satish

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Belagavi

MINISTER Satish Jarkiholi has clarified that he did not lose out on the Karnataka Pradesh Congress Committee (KPCC) president's post, asserting that it had been clear for months that the party would follow its 'one person, one post' principle.

Satish on Thursday said that the Congress high command's decision to appoint MLC BK Hariprasad as KPCC president was in line with the party's norms and should not be viewed as a setback for him. "People are saying the KPCC post slipped away from me. That is not the case. The party leadership had made its position clear nearly two months ago," Satish said.

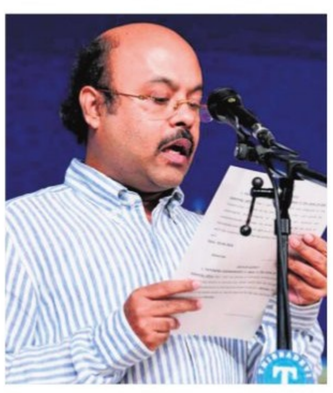
According to Satish, the issue gained traction only because there was uncertainty over cabinet berths in the final stages of government formation. Satish pointed out that holding the KPCC presidency was not a prerequisite for occupying the state's highest office. He cited the example of Siddaramaiah, who became CM, without serving as KPCC president.

Byrathi to Yathindra – Siddu's pet portfolio raises nepo buzz

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

IN a move that has set tongues wagging in Karnataka's political corridors, former Chief Minister Siddaramaiah has ensured the transfer of the powerful Urban Development portfolio — long held by his close aide Byrathi Suresh— to his son, MLC Dr Yathindra Siddaramaiah.The decision has ignited speculation among political observers, many of whom suggest there are "no marks for guessing" the motivation behind this reshuffle. A portfolio that was once with a trusted lieutenant is now in the hands of his own son, raising eyebrows about dynastic control.

The timing of the transfer have only added to the intrigue. Insiders point out that one of Siddaramaiah's final acts as chief minister was to appoint Justice Kulkarni—who headed the one-man judicial commission that gave him a clean chit in the Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) land allotment case — as Chairman of Karnataka State Human Rights Commission.



Political watchers and analysts were swift to allege that the elevation was a quid pro quo arrangement, though no formal charges were established.

The latest portfolio shift has amplified those murmurs. Critics say it reflects a pattern of consolidating influence— first through loyal aides and now through family lines.

Supporters, predictably, describe it as a routine administrative adjustment in the new dispensation under Chief Minister DK Shivakumar.

The move has left analysts wondering about the balance of power within the Congress camp, and also urban development, a department wielding enormous sway over infrastructure projects, land allocation and local bodies.

Free student pass may burden RTCs

Government approves free passes in principle

The state government on Thursday issued an order giving in-principle approval to provide free bus passes to all school and college students on buses operated by the state's four transport corporations — KSRTC, BMTC, NWKRTC and KKRTC. The transport department will issue detailed guidelines, eligibility criteria and implementation modalities separately before the scheme is rolled out.

THE state government's decision to extend free bus passes to students across the state is expected to impact the finances of the state's four road transport corporations, which currently earn revenue from nearly seven lakh paying student pass holders every year. However, students are set to benefit from the announcement.

According to a senior KSRTC official, around nine lakh student passes are issued annually across the four transport corporations. Of these, about seven lakh students pay for the passes, while the remaining belong to Scheduled Caste and Scheduled Tribe categories who already receive free travel benefits. "On average, a student pass costs around Rs 1,000 per year. With the new announcement, revenue from these seven lakh paying students will no longer reach the corporations," the official told TNIE.

Data from the Bengaluru Metropolitan Transport Corporation (BMTC) shows that during 2025-26, a total of 1.78 lakh student passes were issued. Of these, 1.41 lakh were issued to students from the general category, around 31,000 to SC students and nearly 5,000 to ST students.

The decision to provide free bus passes to all school and college students is expected to significantly reduce the financial burden on families, particularly those from low and middle-income households. By eliminating annual transportation costs, the scheme is likely to improve access to education, encourage regular attendance, reduce dropout rates and ensure that students from rural and urban areas can travel to educational institutions without worrying about commuting expenses. The government said the initiative has been introduced with the objective of supporting students' education and making learning more accessible across the state.

The announcement comes at a time when the transport corporations are already grappling with financial stress arising from the Shakti scheme, which provides free bus travel to women. Since the launch of the Shakti scheme on June 11, 2023, the four corporations have spent approximately Rs 17,000 crore towards implementation. While the state government has reimbursed about Rs 13,000 crore, pending dues stand at around Rs 4,000 crore as of February 28.

City doc held for housing exotic wild animals

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

A wildlife crime investigation in Bengaluru has led to the arrest of a doctor, identified as Dr Raj Kamal, practising at a private hospital in Jayanagar and the detention of six others, following the seizure of multiple exotic wildlife species allegedly linked to an illegal wildlife trafficking operation. Acting on a tip-off, authorities conducted a search at Flat C302, Adarsh Hill Apartments in Kumaraswamy Layout. The flat was being used to house exotic wildlife.

Exotic wildlife, including ball pythons, lizards, turtles, along with suitcases bearing airport baggage tags and other material believed to be relevant to wildlife smuggling were seized. Investigators also reportedly recovered traces of ganja during the operation. Authorities are also examining travel histories relevant to the investigation. Preliminary findings indicate that individuals connected to the case had travelled frequently to countries including Thailand and Malaysia, which are major hubs for exotic pet trade.

The case has attracted additional attention due to the alleged association of individuals identified in the investigation with the Instagram handle "@Zoo2You," which promoted wildlife education programs in schools, colleges, apartment complexes, and public events. Photographs and social media material linked to these activities show exotic animals being displayed to members of the public, including children.

Traffic police get 20 'AC helmets' to beat heat

AC helmet and its battery pack

BENGALURU North City Corporation (BNCC), in collaboration with C40 Cities, Sensing Local and Hasiru Dala organisations, held a programme under the 'Heat-Health Protocol' pilot project. Traffic police were educated about the effects of extreme heat, heat-related health issues, and necessary precautionary measures. To support their health and well-being, twenty air-conditioned (cooling) helmets were distributed.

The Commissioner Pommala Sunil Kumar said that protecting the health of personnel working outdoors has become increasingly important due to climate change and rising temperatures. He said that similar cooling kits were earlier distributed to BNCC pourakarmikas, ASHA workers and dry waste collection centre workers, and the initiative has now been extended to traffic police personnel. He shared that proposals are being made to expanded the pilot further by introducing them at Indira Canteens and government offices in the coming days.

At the programme, guidance was provided on health issues caused by rising temperatures, symptoms of heat stress, emergency precautionary measures, and safety protocols. Traffic Police, representatives of C40 Cities, Sensing Local and Hasiru Dala, and other concerned officials were present on the occasion.

Yathindra gets Urban Devpt, five leaders retain earlier portfolios

DEPUTY Chief Minister Dr G Parameshwara, who held Home in the Siddaramaiah cabinet, now holds Revenue and Sports. Priyank Kharge was given Home along with IT/BT which he held previously.

Former CM Siddaramaiah's son Dr Yathindra will handle Urban Development, excluding Bengaluru, while former Speaker UT Khader was allotted Health and Family Welfare, the portfolio he was keen on and had held in the 2013-2018 tenure.

Siddaramaiah's ally Byrathi Suresh got Transport, which Ramalinga Reddy had held previously.

Five senior leaders continue to hold their previous portfolios: KH Muniyappa, Food & Civil Supplies, Consumer Affairs; KJ George, Energy (additionally Tourism); MB Patil, Large & Medium Industries, Infrastructure Development; Dr Sharan Prakash Patil, Medical Education & Skill Development; Satish Jarkiholi, Public Works Department.

DKS heads to Tirupati

With intense lobbying over portfolio distribution, Chief Minister DK Shivakumar headed out to Tirumala Tirupati temple, seeking divine intervention to break the ongoing deadlock. The Congress central leadership, meanwhile, intervened and sent the list to the governor's office for approval. Dr G Parameshwara was seen meeting and talking to former CM Siddaramaiah in the evening.

Party insiders say Shivakumar's sudden pilgrimage reflects the mounting pressure as senior leaders remain locked in a fierce battle over prized portfolios, refusing to compromise on their demands.

Shivakumar is expected to return from Tirupati before Rahul Gandhi arrives at noon on Friday.

N K'taka gets lion's share in DKS cabinet

CM DK Shivakumar has sought to strike a cautious political balance between regions, communities and experience while unveiling his 14-member cabinet, giving North Karnataka a significant share of representation and reaffirming the region's growing influence in the state's power structure. Of the 13 ministers, five are heavyweight leaders from North Karnataka— Satish Jarkiholi, MB Patil, Priyank Kharge, Eshwar Khandre, and Dr Sharan Prakash Patil. All five were key members of the previous Siddaramaiah cabinet and have once again found a place in the new dispensation. ENS

Such exercise of power is a statutory and constitutional fraud by the authorities, the court said while quashing the land acquired for a parking zone of the Bangalore International Exhibition Centre

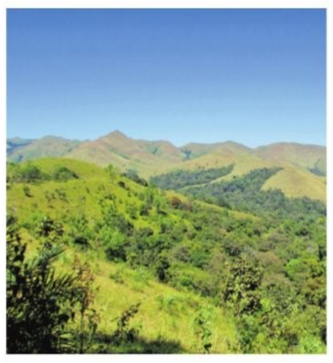
Panel seeks national policy to save W Ghats

BOSKY KHANNA @ Bengaluru

THE Western Ghats (WG) Conservation Task Force Committee has proposed a national policy for the conservation of the UNESCO World Heritage landscape in Karnataka and other states.

The committee penned a letter to the Ministry of Environment, Forests and Climate Change, government of Karnataka and states through which the Ghats spread across 1600km -- Kerala, Tamil Nadu, Goa, Maharashtra and Gujarat. However, about 75% of the mountain mass is in Karnataka.

Experts working on the protection of the Sahyadri range have repeatedly pointed to fragmentation of the landscape, not just because of mega linear projects, but also commercial developments, particularly the rising number of resorts and homestays in and around the Ghats. "Though this looks small, a close analysis has found it to be a major problem. Plots of various dimensions are being converted into resorts and homestays, some are legal and some are not. There is a need to have a policy involving all six states for protection of the landscape, hence a national policy has been proposed," said Mohammed Tabrez Alam Shariff, committee chairman.



He said there are no guidelines on how many homestays and resorts can come up. The policy will ensure that checks and balances are in place. In Karnataka, a large number has mushroomed in Chikkamagaluru, Kodagu and surrounding areas. Large plots of land are being sliced into smaller plots and sold for the construction of villas or independent houses which are being leased, subleased or rented out. These may look small on the ground, but are breaking the landscape and contributing to man-animal conflict also, he said.

State forest officials and the Task Force Committee said there is no consolidated number of how many hotels, resorts and homestays are in and around forest patches and the Western Ghats.

The committee aims to start work on the policy from September 2026, complete it by January 2027 and submit it to the ministry. The members are holding meetings with officials from the other states, and drawing up the report. Karnataka was the first state to conduct a carrying capacity study on the Ghats. It will also be the first state to initiate such a study for the entire landscape.

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Kalaburagi

A tense situation prevailed at Shadipur area of Chincholi taluk of Kalaburagi district on Wednesday after villagers from the Telangana border hurled stones at a team of Karnataka officials during a survey of disputed land in Shadipur village.

Nirmala opens facility to empower farmers

RAMKRISHNA BADSESHI @ Kalaburagi

UNION Minister of Finance and Corporate Affairs Nirmala Sitharaman has urged National Bank for Agriculture and Rural Development (NABARD) to facilitate wider market access for the Farmers' Training and Common Facility Centre (FT-CFC) through e-commerce and quick-commerce platforms. She also requested the Yadgir district administration to extend all necessary support to ensure that the platform achieves its full potential.

The Union minister, who inaugurated the Women-Led Agro-Processing Centre and the FT-CFC at Baddepalli in Yadgir district on Thursday, said it is the fifth such centre established under a series of farmer-centric initiatives aimed at strengthening agricultural value chains across the Kalyana Karnataka region.

The centre has been established by NABARD, leveraging the minister's MPLAD funds, to promote value addition, reduce post-harvest losses, improve market access and create sustainable livelihood opportunities for farmers.

Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman inaugurates the Women-Led Agro-Processing Centre at Baddepalli in Yadgir district on Thursday | EXPRESS

A distinctive feature of the project is that it is being managed by Baddepalli Women Farmers Producer Company Limited, an FPO comprising 727 women members, making it the first women-led agro-processing facility in the region. The centre is expected to serve as a model for women-led rural enterprises by enabling women farmers to participate across the agricultural value chain – from production and processing to branding and marketing.

The minister said she is delighted to inaugurate this agro-processing centre entirely operated by women. Yadgir, one of Karnataka's youngest districts, continues to face developmental challenges, including low female literacy and multidimensional poverty. Initiatives such as this will help improve incomes, generate employment opportunities and enhance the overall quality of life in the district.

Agriculture is the backbone of Yadgir's economy, with nearly 75% of the district's land used for agricultural cultivation. The district produces around 22,500 metric tonnes of groundnuts annually. This facility will enable farmers to convert raw produce into value-added products such as roasted and salted peanuts, peanut butter, groundnut oil and de-oiled cake, thereby improving returns to producers.

SC dismisses plea for action against officials

SUCHITRA KALYAN MOHANTY
@ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court has refused to interfere with a Madras High Court order dismissing a petition that sought action against officials for allegedly denying Hindu devotees permission to light lamps on Thiruparankundram hill while allowing Ramzan celebrations.

A three-judge bench of the apex court, headed by Justice P S Narasimha and comprising Justices Aravind Kumar and Shree Chandrashekhar, declined to disturb the Madurai Bench's decision. However, it reduced the costs imposed on the petitioner, Hindu Dharma Parishad.

"While we are not inclined to interfere with the impugned order passed by the High Court, we are of the opinion that the imposition of costs quantified at ₹50,000 is on the excessive side and can be reduced to ₹5,000 in the facts and circumstances of the case. Ordered accordingly," the bench said in its June 2 order.

The apex court clarified that all other portions of the High Court's order would remain unchanged. "The rest of the impugned order shall remain unaltered. With this clarification, the Special Leave Petition (SLP) is dismissed," it added.

On April 9, the High Court dismissed the PIL seeking directions to the Centre and the Archaeological Survey of India to instruct the Tamil Nadu government to take action against officials who allegedly prevented Hindu devotees from lighting lamps on Thiruparankundram hill while permitting Ramzan-related religious functions there.

The petition was filed by KK Ramesh, managing trustee of Hindu Dharma Parishad, Madurai.

Before the apex court, the petitioner contended that the Madurai district administration and police had prevented devotees from lighting the Karthigai Deepam atop Thiruparankundram hill despite an earlier order of the High Court permitting the practice.

TVK mortgaged TN rights by offering RS seat to Cong: BJP

AGENCIES @Chennai

TAMIL Nadu BJP slammed the ruling TVK on Thursday for allegedly mortgaging the state's rights on the Mekedatu dam project issue by offering the lone Rajya Sabha seat from the state to the grand old party.

To cover up the internal factional fights within the Congress party, Karnataka Chief Minister D K Shivakumar is deliberately and systematically igniting the Mekedatu issue, creating unnecessary tensions between the two states, BJP chief spokesperson Narayanan Thirupathy said.

"Despite knowing this, Tamil Nadu Chief Minister C Joseph Vijay has not condemned the Karnataka Congress government till date. This is a massive betrayal committed against Tamil Nadu," he added.

Instead of severing ties with the Congress party that has announced to build a dam at Mekedatu that would affect Tamil Nadu, the TVK handing over a Rajya Sabha seat to the grand old party clearly exposed the obsession of Vijay, who is desperate to cling to power with Congress's support, the BJP leader said. "It is utterly shameful to have pledged the rights of Tamils and the sentiments of Tamils to the Congress party," Thirupathy said in a post on 'X'.Shivakumar on May 26 welcomed the Supreme Court's decision to dismiss the review petition filed by the Tamil Nadu government regarding the Mekedatu project. He said the state is already in the process of submitting a revised Detailed Project Report for the project.

Tamil Nadu has been opposing the project, raising apprehensions that the state would be affected if it takes shape.

WET DAYS AHEAD

Southwest monsoon arrives in K'taka, yellow & orange alert issued

BOSKY KHANNA @ Bengaluru

THE India Meteorological Department (IMD) has issued yellow and orange alert for rain for most parts of Karnataka for the next two days owing to the onset of southwest monsoon over Kerala and Karnataka on June 4.

The IMD has forecast heavy rain, coupled with thundershowers and gusty winds, over most parts of Karnataka.

IMD-Bengaluru director in-charge, N Puviarasan, said that the southwest monsoon has further advanced to parts of Arabian Sea, entire Lakshadweep, Kerala, Mahe, parts of Karnataka, Tamil Nadu, Comorin area and Bay of Bengal on June 4.

He said that conditions are favourable for further advancement of the monsoon during the next 2-3 days and it will cover the entire Arabian Sea, parts of Maharashtra, Andhra Pradesh, more areas in Karnataka, Tamil Nadu and the Bay of Bengal. According to data, there is an upper air cyclonic circulation over Goa adjoining east central Arabian Sea. There is also a trough over Marathwada to central Arabian Sea across Konkan and Goa. There is also an upper air circulation over south Telangana and adjoining Coastal Andhra Pradesh and another over north Andaman Sea.

The IMD had earlier forecast that the monsoon would hit Kerala either on May 26 or 27. The weathermen also cautioned that the southwest monsoon will be weak owing to the El Nino this season.

SW monsoon hits Kerala 5 days late

NEW DELHI: The Southwest Monsoon reached the Kerala coast on June 4 — three days behind its usual June 1 arrival date. The Indian Meteorological Department (IMD) confirmed the monsoon has set in over Kerala, Mahe, parts of Karnataka, and the Bay of Bengal. The IMD had forecast a May 26 onset. "There is a five-day delay from the forecast date," said Dr Mrutyunjay Mohapatra, IMD's Director General of Meteorology. The monsoon is expected to reach Delhi by June 27 and cover the entire country by July 8.

The outlook for the season is not encouraging. The IMD has predicted this monsoon season (June to September) is likely to be below normal, with expected rainfall at 90% of the Long Period Average (LPA) of 870 mm. Rainfall will be normal (94-106%) over East and Northeast. Even the monsoon core zone, essential for rainfed agriculture, is projected to receive less than 94% of the LPA. Conversely, the South Peninsula and Central India are expected to receive less than 94% of the LPA, while the Northwest may see rainfall below 92% of the LPA. A weak monsoon could hurt food production, as it did in 2023.

Kerala debt ₹5.7 lakh cr, sparks political row

AGENCIES @Thiruvananthapuram

KERALA'S total outstanding liabilities have crossed ₹5.07 lakh crore, while unpaid dues and deferred payments have mounted to nearly ₹49,000 crore, according to a fiscal status report tabled in the Assembly by Chief Minister V D Satheesan on Thursday.

The report was prepared by a three-member committee headed by former Cabinet Secretary K M Chandrasekhar. The white paper, titled Kerala's Fiscal Health: A Status Report, presents a stark assessment of the state's financial position, warning that rising debt, mounting liabilities and high committed expenditure have severely constrained Kerala's ability to invest in development and infrastructure.

According to the report, salaries, pensions and interest payments together account for 77% of the state's total revenue receipts, with interest payments alone constituting 20.9 per cent. At the same time, Kerala's capital expenditure stands at just 1.3 per cent of its Gross State Domestic Product (GSDP), among the lowest in the country.

Satheesan also alleged that claims were "created" about nearly Rs 6,000 crore being left in the treasury to "mislead" the public. In a scathing attack on the CPI(M)-led Left Democratic Front, the CM questioned why the amount was not used to clear some of the liabilities, such as around Rs 2,000 crore in arrears of SupplyCo or the payment of the third instalment of funds to local bodies.

He also said that thousands of crores in DA and DR arrears of government employees and pensioners remained unpaid when the Left government stepped down. Referring to the Kerala Infrastructure Investment Fund Board, Satheesan said it had created one of the biggest liabilities, around Rs 56,000 crore, which has now been passed on to the new government.

Satheesan was responding to the Leader of the Opposition in the Kerala Legislative Assembly, Pinarayi Vijayan's query on whether any fact-checking had been carried out before tabling the white paper.

Vijayan also claimed that the policy address lacked concrete policies for the state's progress and was silent on the future of various welfare and development activities initiated by the previous government.

NDA reaches pact on RS seats; TDP gets 3, JSP 1

S VISWANATH @ Vijayawada

BESIDES finalising a joint action plan to take the achievements of the Central and State governments to the people as part of a statewide campaign marking two years of NDA governance in Andhra Pradesh and Prime Minister Narendra Modi's 12-year reign, the NDA meeting has decided that TDP will contest three of the four Rajya Sabha seats that fell vacant from Andhra Pradesh, leaving the fourth seat to JSP.

Apart from Chief Minister and TDP supremo N Chandrababu Naidu, Deputy Chief Minister and JSP chief Pawan Kalyan, JSP PAC chairman and Civil Supplies Minister Nadendla Manohar, TDP and BJP State presidents Palla Srinivasa Rao and PVN Madhav attended the meeting held at the CM's camp office on Thursday.

Addressing the media after the meeting, NDA leaders said a series of public meetings and outreach programmes will be held across the State to highlight the achievement of the coalition government. Major public rallies will be held in Tirupati on June 9, Amaravati on June 12 and Visakhapatnam on June 15.

The alliance will also conduct district-level programmes from June 13 to 20 to highlight key welfare and development initiatives undertaken by the Central and State governments. A detailed campaign schedule will be released shortly. Stating NDA will jointly reach out to people with the achievements of the Central and State governments over the past two years, Palla said the public meetings will be held in Tirupati, Amaravati and Visakhapatnam focusing on welfare, good governance and development. Preparations for Special Intensive Revision of electoral rolls were also discussed during the meeting, Palla said.

Int'l hydroponic ganja network busted in TG, 14 held

HYDERABAD : A tip-off received through the EAGLE toll-free helpline (1908) helped authorities bust an international hydroponic cannabis smuggling syndicate operating between Thailand and India. They seized 13.2 kg of the contraband. Addressing reporters on Thursday, EAGLE Director Sandeep Shandilya said the investigation began after a caller informed EAGLE that some youths from Hyderabad's Old City were travelling frequently to Thailand. Man sexually assaults minor in car in Tiruchy

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Tiruchy

THE Tiruchy city police on Wednesday night booked a 43-year-old man for allegedly sexually assaulting a 16-year-old Dalit girl in a car in the Gandhi Market area and later abandoning her nearby. The man, who was allegedly manhandled by the girl's brother following the incident, is under treatment at the Mahatma Gandhi Memorial Government Hospital (MGMGH).

According to the police, the girl, who resides in a locality under the Gandhi Market police station limits, on Wednesday afternoon headed to the place where her sibling was residing with his friends. There, the sibling's friend, identified as Bhagya, arrived in a car driven by the accused, C Mariselvan of Thirupuvanam in Sivaganga district. Mariselvan was present at the house for some time before taking the girl with him in the car around 5 pm to drop her in her house at the request of her sibling.

Around 6.30 pm, the girl's family was informed of her lying unconscious in the Keerakkadai bazaar area. A family member then admitted her to the MGMGH, the police said.

In a complaint lodged with the Gandhi market police, the family member alleged that Mariselvan had taken the minor in his car, offered her juice, after which she lost consciousness. He then sexually assaulted the girl before abandoning her, the complainant added. The incident triggered political reactions, with opposition leaders criticising the state government over the safety of women and children.

NEW KARNATAKA CM DK SHIVAKUMAR FACES RACE AGAINST THE CLOCK

DK Shivakumar's populist approach was evident within hours of him assuming charge as the new Chief Minister of Karnataka. Among the raft of the new measures announced were free bus passes for all students, a ₹2,000-crore grant for improving roads in Bengaluru, a private employment exchange system, establishment of 10,000 Bharat Jodo youth associations and initiatives to address the concerns of those building houses. But below the layers of hope and excitement, the new CM and his administration face a number of challenges—administratively and politically—including mobilising resources for the ongoing and new schemes, and implementing them effectively.

Shivakumar, keen on getting his government out of predecessor Siddaramaiah's shadow, may announce more initiatives in the days to come. But the real challenge would be in continuing the Congress's flagship guarantee schemes promised before the elections that require over ₹50,000 crore in annual allocations. Adding to the challenge will be funding the other initiatives launched in the last three years and the fresh programmes announced now. Most importantly, resources would need to be generated for all of them without burdening the people further.

Taking the bureaucracy into confidence to ensure the effective implementation of these programmes would be no mean task. Officials, especially those at the district and taluk levels, play a pivotal role in shaping public opinion. All the grand plans at the top may not yield the desired outcomes if the government fails to ensure responsive, accountable and non-partisan delivery of the promised services at all levels, even as Bengaluru's development and its sustainability remain a huge problem.

Providing corruption-free governance is a top priority for Shivakumar—but it will be a Herculean task. Justice B Veerappa, the Karnataka Upalokayukta, recently pointed to corruption spreading across every state department and warned that a failure to curb the menace could lead to dangerous consequences. The other big challenge for the new CM comes from the state Congress party's internal dynamics. With former CM Siddaramaiah remaining active in Karnataka politics, the new CM and the party face an undesirable scenario fraught with the uncertainties of dealing with two power centres. Politically, that would be the most consequential challenge for the new CM. With just under two years to prove his mettle as CM, it's clear that Shivakumar faces a race against time.

SUBNORMAL MONSOON DARKENS MACRO CLOUDS

UNLIKE many countries, India rejoices when the skies darken around this time of the year. For the monsoon, which exclusively irrigates more than half of India's farm lands, also promises relief from record-breaking temperatures. No wonder then that a mere three-day delay in the rain-bearing clouds' arrival is cause for national consternation. But even as the India Meteorological Department revised its forecast for the date of monsoon's landfall in Kerala, another set of revisions darkened a longer horizon. The possibility of this season's below-normal rainfall hitting only 90 percent of the long-period average—down from 92 percent estimated on April 13, thus placing it closer to the 'deficient' range—upset some of the most consequential macroeconomic calculations. The last time India recorded a severely deficient monsoon was in 2014-15, when it was accompanied by another phenomenon that's building up this time too—strong El Niño conditions that are expected to intensify heatwaves, prolong dry spells and dent the kharif harvest, which accounts for more than half the annual foodgrain production.

If similar conditions a decade ago led to an agrarian distress, a rural demand slump and a regional water crisis, there is an added reason for worry this year. The Gulf war and Hormuz Strait blockade have driven up fertiliser prices by more than two-fifths before the kharif sowing season, forcing the government to expand its subsidy burden to protect farmers and food prices—what was budgeted for 2026-27 at ₹1.71 lakh crore is now expected to balloon to ₹2.75-3 lakh crore. With urea supplies hit, the Indian Council for Agricultural Research recommended using ammonium sulphate, an inorganic fertiliser whose short-term benefits should be balanced against its long-term impact on soil acidity. Experience also shows that it's well nigh impossible to push farmers into changing their practices in short order.

Like so many other gaps in India's strategic planning, the Gulf war has exposed the delicate calculations that keep the country's food security in the safe zone. A parliamentary panel's report last December pointed out that India produces a quarter less urea than it consumes—a shortfall external shocks can exacerbate. Ultimately, we need to treat farm inputs as strategic sectors. The reopening of district Agromet centres within a year of their closure taught us that we need to constantly share localised weather information with farmers—even if they are not precisely accurate.

QUICK TAKE

SAFETY AS AFTERTHOUGHT

WHY is it that we Indians are indifferent to the appalling safety conditions of so many buildings, and yet lend voice to the outrage that flickers briefly following a tragedy? Last Saturday, six people were killed and eight injured when an illegally-expanded commercial building collapsed in south Delhi's Saket area. This Wednesday, 21 were charred to death in an ill-ventilated hotel not far from the first spot. In both cases, the Delhi government promised strict action on the errant owners. But as we have held before, the incidence of such criminal violations would fall drastically if exemplary deterrent action is taken on the state officials who look the other way to make this possible. Also, when was the last time a tenant demanded a second, emergency exit to an apartment?

WHAT Bengal did this week, India has done before. Yet the turn of events in the fourth-most populous state was stunning given that none of this was thinkable even on May 3.

A month after the BJP's spectacular triumph of winning a two-thirds majority in the state, the declaration of autonomy by two-thirds of Trinamool Congress legislators is a resounding vote of no-confidence against Mamata Banerjee in general and, more specifically, against Abhishek Banerjee, denying the nephew locus standi as the party's national general secretary.

The disintegration of Trinamool is a body blow to Mamata Banerjee—for she embodies the party. The break from the past is even more remarkable when you consider that a relative newcomer in Trinamool politics, Ritabrata Banerjee, has been selected leader of the breakaway group of 58 legislators, who have been recognised by the new Assembly Speaker Rathindra Bose as the principal opposition.

It's a flame-out Mamata does not appear to have anticipated herself. It leaves her alienated from the party she founded in 1998 after quitting the Congress. The likelihood of this eruption seemed improbable before May 4. Before and during the election, the Trinamool Congress was a large, popular, dominating political presence in West Bengal. However, after the breakup, it now seems entirely expected, as more and more legislators and other party leaders spew venom against Abhishek's monopolisation of power and Mamata's acquiescence, if not active indulgence of his takeover as the dynastic successor.

The crisis in the Trinamool Congress is familiar in most regional parties founded by or taken captive by a single family. A game of thrones is triggered when the right of a son or daughter to succeed the founder is challenged by an upwardly-mobile popular leader from outside the family. The fight between the bloodline and the outsider is a replay of feudal succession battles. Political parties are not hereditary fiefdoms, even when the parallels are unmistakable.

Between dynastic succession and choices determined by bloodlines—as in Abhishek Banerjee's approval of Sobhandeb Chattopadhyay as the Trinamool Congress Leader of the Opposition, and a democratic choice by a majority, Ritabrata Banerjee—there is always the probability of a split.

In Maharashtra, the Shiv Sena split twice; first when Raj Thackeray quit over Uddhav Thackeray's succession to the Bal Thackeray legacy and then when Eknath Shinde exited and took the bulk of the party with him along with the name and electoral symbol that have immense resonance among voters in the state. The Nationalist Congress Party also split to leave founder Sharad Pawar in the minority, while his nephew, the late Ajit Pawar, seized the larger chunk. In Assam, the large-scale exodus from the Congress led by Himanta Biswa Sarma to the BJP was a fallout of the late Chief Minister Tarun Gogoi's dynastic ambitions for his son Gaurav.

In the Hindi heartland, there have been multiple feuds over succession, starting with when Akhilesh Yadav had a hard time taking over the Samajwadi Party from his father Mulayam Singh as well as a host of claimants related by blood or long association. The same is true for Tejashwi Yadav, who did not get to lead the Rashtriya Janata Dal without a fight. When Mayawati lost the election in 2012, after her fourth and final stint as chief minister, the Bahujan Samaj Party began crumbling as a significant political force in Uttar Pradesh, as rivals began scrambling for what remained and she dithered over choosing her successor, as she continues to do even now.

Curiously, Akhilesh Yadav, Gaurav Gogoi and Mayawati all moved beyond state politics, choosing to use Parliament, both the Lok Sabha and the Rajya Sabha, as alternative sites for continuing their political careers when winning majorities in their state legislatures became unachievable targets.

The option is open for Mamata Banerjee, too. Having started her career in electoral politics as a member of the Lok Sabha in 1984, when she defeated CPI(M) stalwart Somnath Chatterjee, that may be one place from where she can start over to rebuild her image, retrieve her reputation and leverage the remaining political capital to rebuild the Trinamool Congress.

A contest between the people who helped build the party and believe they rose through the ranks by sheer merit and hard work versus the bloodline is now normal in Indian politics. The contest has consequences. It makes the party vulnerable to poaching and splits. The crisis in the Trinamool Congress is, therefore, just one more in a long line of fights between rival claims to succession.

Mamata's choices are limited; she has to find a way of cutting her losses without cutting off her nose to spite the face—in other words, she has to figure out what to do with Abhishek as her deemed successor, and salvage whatever political capital she has left after the election fiasco. The chances are that investigations by various agencies into the sordid antics of her party leaders and their money-grabbing machinations could further damage her credibility and reputation.

By dissolving all party committees and centralising power in her own hands, Mamata is repeating a mistake she made some years ago. Then, too, the fight between old-timers and Abhishek had reached a crisis point. The distrust is mutual between leaders who represented the party at different levels and Mamata plus her loyalists, though how long how many of them will remain loyal is open to speculation.

Mamata has lost the first fight in keeping the leadership of the tanking Trinamool within the family. From out of nowhere, Ritabrata Banerjee emerged as a strategist who could engineer a break within the party to invent a legislature version of it, which clearly has the approval of the BJP. For the BJP, the Trinamool's infighting is a second windfall—the losing side is even weaker than before. In the Assembly, the BJP now has a recognised opposition that has vowed to work responsibly and not indulge in opposition for opposition's sake.

The era of cooperative politics is being reshaped. What happened in Maharashtra seems likely to be the template for the approved opposition's role in West Bengal.

The feudal succession battle playing out in Bengal has been staged elsewhere too. But Trinamool's infighting is a second windfall for the BJP. Mamata faces hard choices on the road ahead

WHY A NEW PRICE MEASURE MATTERS

COME June 15, India will change the way it measures inflation at the producer level. The government has announced the launch of the Producer Price Index (PPI), beginning a five-year transition away from the Wholesale Price Index (WPI). This is more than a statistical update; it is a fundamental rethink of how India measures the cost of producing goods and services.

The PPI tracks price changes from the producer's perspective and covers both goods and services. It measures what producers receive for their output and what they pay for inputs. In essence, it captures inflation at the point where economic activity begins, before products move through supply chains and reach consumers.

The distinction between output and input PPI is important. The former is based on prices received by producers—basic prices—that exclude net taxes as well as trade and transport margins. The latter, by contrast, is based on purchasers' prices, which include these margins and reflect what producers actually pay for inputs. Together, the two indices provide a clearer picture of how inflation emerges and moves through the economy.

Most countries have already replaced WPI with PPI because it is conceptually aligned with the internationally accepted System of National Accounts, the framework used to measure GDP and economic activity. India's adoption of PPI is therefore a long-overdue alignment.

At first glance, WPI and output PPI appear similar because both rely on producer prices. Their differences, however, are structural. WPI weights are based on the gross value of output estimates from the national accounts at a broad sector level. Output PPI uses the supply table of the national accounts, offering a more granular and up-to-date representation of economic activity.

The more significant difference lies in coverage. WPI measures only goods, whereas PPI includes both goods and services. This matters because services now contribute more than 55 percent of India's GDP and employ nearly 30 percent of its workforce. Excluding such a large segment of the economy has increasingly made WPI an incomplete measure of producer inflation.

PPI also addresses a technical weakness in WPI. Intermediate goods were often counted multiple times as they moved through different stages of production, creating distortions through double counting. By releasing both input and output PPIs, the new framework provides a cleaner and more accurate view of where inflation originates and how it spreads.

TULSI JAYAKUMAR
Professor, economics & policy; and Executive Director, Centre for Family Business & Entrepreneurship, Bhavan's SPJIMR

For businesses, PPI offers a forward-looking indicator. The availability of both input and output measures makes it easier to track how cost pressures are transmitted through production chains. If a steel producer faces rising input costs, those pressures are likely to flow downstream to automobile manufacturers, construction firms and appliance makers. PPI helps identify such transmission mechanisms much earlier than consumer inflation data.

AFP

> By shifting from the Wholesale Price Index to the Producer Price Index, India is aligning with a global best practice. Given the widespread use of WPI in infrastructure contracts, businesses must use the next five years when the old index is phased out to redraft deals

The index also has practical implications for contracts. Many long-term infrastructure, construction and supply agreements contain price-escalation clauses that adjust payments for inflation. Given the widespread use of WPI in such contracts, the government will continue publishing a revised WPI alongside PPI for five years before phasing it out completely. This transition period should allow businesses sufficient time to renegotiate agreements and adopt the new benchmark.

Beyond contractual pricing, input PPI can serve as an early warning system. When costs rise sharply in sectors such as pharmaceuticals, automobiles or construction, the impact often takes weeks or months to appear in retail prices. Firms that monitor input PPI can anticipate margin pressures, adjust pricing strategies, hedge exposures or renegotiate supplier agreements before profitability is affected. Investors can also use these signals to identify sectors where earnings may come under pressure.

Producer inflation rarely remains confined to factory gates. Rising costs are eventually passed on through supply chains and reflected in consumer prices. PPI therefore serves as a leading indicator of movements in the consumer price index. If input PPI is rising while output PPI remains subdued, the gap often represents a temporary absorption of costs that is unlikely to persist indefinitely.

The implications extend to policymaking as well. The RBI relies on inflation indicators to calibrate monetary policy. An index that excludes services and contains distortions from double-counting provides an incomplete picture of inflationary pressures. By broadening coverage and improving measurement, PPI offers policymakers a sharper tool for assessing emerging price trends.

The transition, however, is not without challenges. Services PPI will initially be published quarterly rather than monthly, creating an asymmetry with goods data. In an economy where services dominate output, this lag may temporarily limit the index's usefulness as a real-time inflation gauge. Policymakers should view quarterly publication as a starting point rather than a permanent arrangement.

The revised basket itself reflects a changing economy. The number of commodities has increased from 697 to 957, with newer sectors such as solar, wind and nuclear electricity now included. Yet the credibility of any index ultimately depends less on its design than on the quality of the underlying data. Reliable price collection across a vast and diverse economy remains the more demanding task.

India's move to PPI is both overdue and necessary. Importantly, it shifts attention to where inflation actually begins. An economy that measures itself more accurately is better equipped to govern itself more effectively.

Sunset clauses

Ref: Nimble welfare framework (Jun 4). Sticky subsidies outliving their justification is a well-documented problem across developing economies. A time-bound, direct-benefit-transfer-linked shock absorber is a sensible and fiscally responsible alternative to price interventions. Parliament-mandated sunset clauses would prevent the political temptation of extending temporary relief indefinitely while still protecting vulnerable households during genuine crises.

Safety shortfall

Ref: Delhi blaze (Jun 4). Wednesday morning's tragedy is a classic case of the malaise of governance failure. While shifting of blame usually follows such accidents, nobody has learnt lessons from the earlier fire accidents, including the infamous Uphaar theatre accident that left over 100 dead in 1997. Presently, governments and leaders consider their job done after offering condolences and compensation to kin of the deceased and medical treatment to the injured at public cost. Ultimately, the buck has to stop somewhere, and it should be at the doors of the concerned governing bodies.

Financial delegation powers for field commanders doubled

MoD calls it part of a wider push to speed up procurement and fast-track decision-making

JAVARIA RANA @ New Delhi

SEEKING to give military commanders greater financial autonomy and speed up procurement decisions, the defence ministry on Thursday revised the financial powers delegated to the armed forces, increasing spending limits by 100% or more than double across a range of categories including operational procurements, medical and works projects, indigenisation, and research and development (R&D) activities.

The revision comes at a time when the armed forces are seeking to shorten procurement cycles for emerging capabilities such as drones, counter-drone systems, loitering munitions, and electronic warfare equipment. Financial powers for indigenisation and R&D have also been doubled.

The government said the revised framework would facilitate procurement worth over ₹1.25 lakh crore through the revenue route. The amount has already been provided for in the armed forces' revenue budget for the current financial year and does not constitute fresh allocations.

AT A GLANCE

- More spending powers for military commanders
- Spending limits up by up to 100% and more than double in some categories
- URGENT OPERATIONAL PROCUREMENT CEILING DOUBLED
- Indigenisation and R&D powers doubled
- Covers over ₹1.25 lakh cr of revenue procurement

IFA OVERSIGHT REMAINS UNCHANGED FOR PROCUREMENTS ABOVE PRESCRIBED THRESHOLDS

Defence Minister Rajnath Singh released the newly updated Delegation of Financial Powers for Defence Services (DFPDS 2026), which governs revenue procurement, including medical and works projects. It is the first revision of the DFPDS since 2021.

"This would further strengthen the operational efficiency of field commanders and lead to faster conclusion of contracts and execution of projects," the ministry said in a statement.

The latest revision follows a series of changes to the military's financial delegation framework. After a comprehensive review in 2016, the financial powers of the Vice Chiefs of the Army, Navy, and Air Force were increased five-fold in 2018, with an overall ceiling of ₹500 crore.

The DFPDS-2021 subsequently widened delegated powers across a broader range of Competent Financial Authorities and field formations, while also tripling powers related to indigenisation and R&D. The latest revision further raises spending limits across multiple categories, though the ministry has not yet disclosed the revised ceilings for different authorities.

The ministry said special financial powers available to commanders of the three services for urgent operational requirements have been increased significantly, with the overall ceiling under this category raised by 100%.

Seven colleges not paying stipend to interns, resident doctors: NMC to SC

SUCHITRA KALYAN MOHANTY
@ New Delhi

THE National Medical Commission (NMC) has informed the Supreme Court that only seven medical colleges were found not to be paying stipends to MBBS interns and postgraduate resident doctors.

According to the NMC, the seven institutions include four government and three private colleges. They are located in Andhra Pradesh, Haryana, Jharkhand, Rajasthan, Karnataka, Madhya Pradesh, and Uttar Pradesh.

The matter came before a two-judge bench comprising Justice Aravind Kumar and Justice P. B. Varale. The bench was hearing petitions regarding non-payment of stipends.

Appearing for the petitioners, counsel Tanvi Dubey told the court that there is no dispute regarding stipend payments in 573 of the country's 756 undergraduate medical colleges. Dubey submitted that only seven of the 756 colleges were not paying stipends to interns, junior residents, or senior residents and that show-cause notices had already been issued to those institutions.

The submissions followed earlier observations by the Supreme Court in a case filed in 2022, when the court questioned the regulator over alleged inaction on stipend payments.

The petitioner further stated that the NMC had initiated action by issuing show-cause notices proposing penalties and would take additional steps after receiving responses from the concerned colleges.

Counsel for the NMC informed the court that one medical college had remained closed and therefore had no interns. He added that 562 colleges offering postgraduate courses were paying stipends, while two colleges had no interns, making the question of stipend payments irrelevant in those cases. The court was also told that proceedings against the seven colleges were underway. The matter is scheduled for August.

Earlier, on July 11, 2025, the NMC directed all medical colleges to disclose stipend details for MBBS interns and PG residents on their websites. After a review, it found that seven colleges had failed to provide the information despite reminders. NMC said such failure violates the National Medical Commission Act, 2019 and regulations including PGMER, 2023.

The plea alleged that nearly 70% of medical colleges either do not pay stipends or pay less than prescribed. The Army College of Medical Sciences in Delhi was cited as an example in which 100 interns reportedly received no stipend.

India, UK push ties on critical minerals

JAYANTH JACOB @ New Delhi

INDIA and the United Kingdom on Thursday unveiled a series of initiatives spanning critical minerals, education and maritime security, as External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar and UK Foreign Secretary Yvette Cooper reviewed bilateral cooperation and exchanged views on regional and global developments, including the conflict in West Asia.

A key outcome of Cooper's first visit to India as Foreign Secretary was the launch of the 'UK–India Critical Minerals Supply Chain Observatory (GSCO)', aimed at strengthening cooperation in critical minerals and building resilient, secure global supply chains amid growing geopolitical and economic uncertainties.

In the education sector, the Ministry of Education handed over a Letter of Approval to the University of Liverpool to establish its Bengaluru campus under India's National Education Policy (NEP). The campus is expected to begin operations from the next academic year, marking another step in expanding academic collaboration between the two countries.

The visit also saw the exchange of a memorandum of understanding (MoU) between King's College London and the National Maritime Foundation to establish the Regional Maritime Security Centre for Excellence (RMSCE). The centre, created under the maritime security pillar of the Indo-Pacific Oceans Initiative (IPOI), will help Indian Ocean countries strengthen capacities to address non-traditional maritime security challenges.

Cooper, who arrived in India on Wednesday after a visit to China, held talks with Jaishankar on advancing the India-UK Vision 2035 roadmap and reviewed progress across security, economic and strategic cooperation. She also met Coal and Mines Minister G Kishan Reddy to formally launch the GSCO.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi, who met Cooper during her visit, highlighted the growing momentum in bilateral ties. "The India-UK partnership has deepened in recent times, unlocking unprecedented growth opportunities for both sides. India-UK Vision 2035 will continue to guide our partnership and strengthen our joint efforts for global good," Modi said in a social media post.

In a statement, the Ministry of External Affairs said the visit delivered "key outcomes in the areas of education, critical minerals and maritime security."

The ministry said that the University of Liverpool's Bengaluru campus would begin operations from the next academic year and described the RMSCE as an important initiative under the Indo-Pacific Oceans Initiative. It also highlighted the launch of the UK–India Critical Minerals Supply Chain Observatory as a significant step towards strengthening cooperation in a strategically important sector.

"India and the United Kingdom share a Comprehensive Strategic Partnership. The historical ties have transformed into a robust, multi-faceted, mutually beneficial relationship over the years. The visit of Foreign Secretary Cooper further strengthens the bilateral relationship," the MEA said.

The initiatives underscore the expanding strategic dimension of India-UK ties, with both countries increasingly focusing on supply chain resilience, higher education partnerships and maritime security in the Indo-Pacific.

14 Indian cities under heat risk: Oxford study

JITENDRA CHOUBEY @ New Delhi

NEW research from the University of Oxford has identified 14 cities in India among the world's top 50 facing significant heat risk. Ahmedabad, Nagpur and Madurai lead the India rankings in the list and make it to the top 10 affected cities. Al Basrah in Iraq has been noted as the city at the highest risk globally.

India, Pakistan, Nigeria and Ghana are home to the largest number of cities with high-risk scores. Over 95 per cent of the most at-risk cities with hazard exposure, socio-demographic vulnerability and limited coping capacity are located in South and Southeast Asia and Sub-Saharan Africa. The Indian cities included in the top 50 list are Nagpur, Madurai, Bhopal, Kanpur, Pune, Patna, Hyderabad, Bangalore, Kolkata, Jaipur, Lucknow and Chennai. Jaipur, known as a major tourist destination, is particularly vulnerable to heat. Other major tourist and international business hubs at risk include Cairo in Egypt, Bangkok in Thailand and Hanoi in Vietnam.

The study analysed 205 global cities to assess where people are most at risk from rising global temperatures and related heat hazards. Published in the journal Sustainable Cities and Societies, the research examined key indicators of risk, focusing on hazard exposure, vulnerability and coping capacity.

Top Indian cities suffer in climate change

Ahmadabad	0.79*	Hyderabad	0.68
Nagpur	0.76	Bangalore	0.69
Madurai	0.73	Kolkata	0.66
Bhopal	0.75	Jaipur	0.7
Kanpur	0.67	Lucknow	0.68
Pune	0.66	Mumbai	0.63
Patna	0.73	Chennai	0.64

*Composite risk score

In many significant cities, especially across Asia and Africa, extreme heat coincides with high vulnerability for their populations and limited coping capacity. This combination can greatly increase heat risk and, in some cases, lead to life-threatening consequences.

The study notes that its spatial patterns are consistent with those reported in the World Bank Handbook on Urban Heat Management in the Global South, published in 2025, which highlights these regions as priority areas for heat resilience planning.

The study ranks 205 cities with populations exceeding one million and establishes a core set of risk indicators to allow for consistent comparisons across cities, rather than providing a comprehensive account of all factors that influence urban heat risk. Factors considered include demographic and socioeconomic conditions that heighten susceptibility to heat-related illness and mortality, such as age and financial resources, as well as access to cooling infrastructure like air conditioning and ecological buffers, such as tree cover. "It isn't just exposure to high temperatures that matters for risk," explains lead author Nethmi Jayaratne Kariyawasam from the Oxford Smith School of Enterprise and the Environment. "Our study emphasises the need for multi-faceted global heat risk assessments that reveal the various pathways through which urban heat risk develops."

Radhika Khosla, associate professor at the University of Oxford and co-supervisor of Nethmi's research, stated, "Our study indicates that heat risk planning must explicitly address not only exposure to high temperatures, but also vulnerability and coping capacity.

The demand for ACs is rising worldwide, but many people cannot afford it. Over-reliance on this energy-intensive form of cooling risks further global warming, creating a vicious cycle." She addes that to effectively scale adaptation and ensure thermal comfort for all, we must employ a nuanced approach to keep people safe, starting with passive cooling and low-energy technologies, such as fans and coolers.

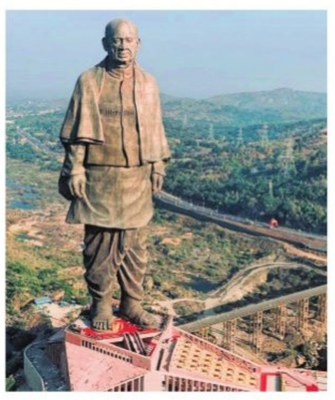
Senior & young civil servants to stay at Statue of Unity for knowledge sharing

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

SENIOR and junior Indian Administrative Service (IAS) officers from across the country will come together annually at the Statue of Unity in Gujarat for a day-long mentorship and knowledge-sharing programme under a first-of-its-kind initiative launched by the Union Government. The exercise is aimed at promoting the exchange of experience and expertise among civil servants from different batches and governance domains.

The move follows a vision articulated by PM Narendra Modi during the 5th National Conference of Chief Secretaries in 2025. Acting on this vision, the Ministry of Personnel, Public Grievances and Pensions has directed the Chief Secretaries of all states and Union Territories to nominate groups of senior and young IAS officers from diverse batches and governance backgrounds to participate in a day-long mentorship and knowledge-sharing programme at the Statue of Unity.

The nominated officers will gather at the Statue of Unity in Kevadia, Gujarat, on October 31 every year and spend a day exchanging insights and experiences from their respective fields of expertise.



The Department of Personnel and Training (DoPT) said Modi, in his closing remarks, had asked "earlier batches of IAS and other services to motivate the younger groups by visiting the Statue of Unity and spending a day with them".

The DoPT stated that it is intended to encourage meaningful engagement between senior and younger civil servants through structured mentorship and knowledge-sharing interactions at the Statue of Unity on National Unity Day.

The Ministry of Personnel, Public Grievances and Pensions, through the DoPT, further stated: "Accordingly, all state governments are requested to nominate a group of senior/veteran as well as young Indian Administrative Service (IAS) officers from diverse batches and with expertise across varied domains of governance, public administration, policy formulation etc. for participation in the proposed mentorship and knowledge-sharing interactions to be organised annually on the occasion of Rashtriya Ekta Diwas at the Statue of Unity."

'Make necessary arrangements for the annual visit'

The Ministry also requested all states and UTs to make the necessary arrangements for the annual visit of senior and young civil servants to the Statue of Unity on October 31 under this interaction-cum-knowledge-sharing initiative. All states and UTs have also been asked to furnish details of the nominated officers ahead of the programme.

Major fire at Bihar hosp ICU kills 5 and injures 15

Blaze suspected to have been triggered by short circuit; probe ordered

RAMASHANKAR @ Patna

A day after a major fire at a hotel in Malviya Nagar area of Delhi claimed 21 lives, at least five patients died and 15 others were injured when a massive blaze engulfed the ICU of a private hospital in Bihar's Muzaffarpur early on Thursday.

The death count may increase as several patients, who were rescued by fire personnel, were still in critical condition in other hospitals of the town. Muzaffarpur Town Commissioner Rituraj Singh said, "Five people lost their lives in the fire at Prasad Hospital. Several injured patients were currently undergoing treatment at different hospitals."

Officials said the fire erupted around 3 am possibly due to short circuit and quickly filled the ICU with thick smoke, creating panic among patients and attendants. Locals said ICU ward was located on fifth floor of the building, while waiting hall was on fourth floor, posing huge challenges for rescue personnel to evacuate those trapped inside.

District fire officer R N Pandey said, "At 3.55 am, we received an emergency call from the hospital and a fire brigade team was immediately rushed to the spot. 15-20 patients were rescued by the team. Five fire tenders were pressed into service." Sources said 24 patients were undergoing treatment in Prasad Hospital, of whom 13 were in the ICU.

Bihar health department has initiated an inquiry and sought a report from Muzaffarpur district administration regarding the fire. District magistrate Subrat Kumar Sen has constituted a five-member inquiry committee to examine the circumstances that led to the fire and find out lapses.Radha Devi (95), who was undergoing treatment in the ICU when smoke started filling the ward, reportedly removed her oxygen mask and managed to make her way out of the ward. She alerted a security guard about the condition inside the ICU.

Chief Minister Samrat Choudhary announced that the families of the deceased would get an ex gratia payment of ₹4 lakh each. He directed authorities to ensure proper treatment for the injured. RJD spokesperson Mritunjay Tiwari took a dig at health minister Nishant Kumar, who flew to Delhi hours after the incident.

"He even did not utter a word in sympathy of the victims and their relatives," Tiwari told reporters. Nishant later expressed grief over the tragedy and said the health department would conduct a fair probe and ensure action.

'No courage to reappear': NEET aspirant writes to parents before death

SUDHIR SURYAVANSHI @ Mumbai

AN 18-year-old NEET aspirant who died by suicide in Nagpur wrote in a note that she had no courage to reappear for the test as she was not confident whether she would get the same marks again.

Akanksha Chaturvedi, daughter of a farmer from Mauganj district of MP, ended her life on May 20 after the NEET paper leak. She was preparing for the test in Nagpur. When her relatives sorted through her belongings, they found the suicide note from the room she was staying in.

"Mom and Dad, you had faith that your daughter would study hard and become a doctor, but I no longer have the courage to take the NEET exam again," Akanksha wrote in the note.

"I would have scored good marks in my first attempt, but now there is no guarantee that I will perform well again. I am sorry, Mom and Dad. I have ruined everything," she added in the note.

Nearly 22 lakh students appeared for the NEET-UG exam on May 3, hoping to qualify for a seat in medical colleges. The exam was later cancelled owing to a paper leak, and a retest is scheduled for June 21.

The aspirants are under tremendous pressure to perform again to meet the expectations of their parents.

Akanksha's father Krishna Kumar had raised an agriculture loan of ₹3 lakh through Kisan Credit Card and was doing an odd job in Nagpur so that his daughter could pay her coaching fees. "I wanted to see my daughter as a big doctor," he said.

Following a complaint by Akansha's father, a case of accidental death was registered at Ambazari police station in Nagpur. Krishna Kumar told police in a statement that his daughter was upset after the NEET exam was cancelled.

A relative of Akansha said, "She was very happy with her performance in NEET examination held on May 3. The news of the paper leak and subsequent cancellation of the exam broke her emotionally."

Viral audio wars rock BJP as rifts go public

BJP in Gujarat is facing a new battleground in viral audio clips. What began with an audio linked to former deputy CM Nitin Patel has snowballed into a political point. Adding fuel to the fire, another audio allegedly featuring BJP MLA C J Chavda, who switched from Congress, has gone viral, triggering debate. Political observers say growing dissatisfaction within sections of the party is spilling onto social media. Similar audio leaks had surfaced in past. The bigger concern is—issues buzzing among grassroots workers often reach the party's top leadership much later. Whether BJP cracks down on leaks or addresses the discontent remains a question.

Row erupts as husbands represent elected women

A fresh political controversy has erupted in Ahmedabad Municipal Corporation, raising questions over women's representation in local governance. During a Sarkhej ward coordination committee meeting held in the presence of BJP MLA Amit Thakar, two newly elected women corporators were allegedly represented by their husbands. The incident has reignited the debate over the growing 'corporator husband' culture. While corporators' families claimed the husbands were present briefly or due to logistical reasons, sources allege that public grievances, official communications, and civic follow-ups are often managed by spouses.

15 BJP corporators in Sabarkantha resign

A political storm has erupted in Sabarkantha, a BJP bastion. Fifteen 15 BJP corporators of Prantij municipality collectively resigned, revolting against municipal president Anita Pandya and her husband Jignesh Pandya. The crisis exploded after a resignation letter signed by them went viral on social media. Despite BJP holding a majority with 19 of the municipality's 24 seats, simmering discontent appears to have boiled over. Rebel corporators have alleged arbitrary functioning, neglect of elected members, and excessive interference by Pandya's husband in civic affairs. It has triggered political speculation over BJP's ability to contain the unrest.

Rahul's chopper makes emergency landing due to bad weather in U'khand

NARENDRA SETHI @ Dehradun

LEADER of Opposition in the Lok Sabha Rahul Gandhi's proposed two-day visit to Uttarakhand ran into rough weather on Thursday, forcing his helicopter to make an emergency landing at Pantnagar airport. He was scheduled to address a public meeting in Almora, which he eventually did over a mobile phone.

Gandhi's helicopter had taken off from New Delhi for Almora. However, poor weather conditions in the hill district prevented the aircraft from reaching the destination. The helicopter was brought back and landed at Pantnagar, officials said.

The sudden change in schedule disappointed Congress workers and supporters who had gathered in Almora to hear him. Local party leaders, however, got an opportunity to meet Gandhi at Pantnagar after the landing.

Addressing the Almora gathering over phone, Gandhi said he was keen to meet people in person. "Today, I wanted to be with you, sit among you, listen to you and understand your joys, difficulties, hopes and concerns. Unfortunately, due to severe weather conditions, this could not be possible," he said.

Congress leader Rahul Gandhi at Pantnagar airport on Thursday

Gandhi said he had planned to speak on Uttarakhand's present condition, its economic and social challenges, and the future of the state. He also referred to his scheduled interaction with ex-servicemen in Pauri Garhwal and a planned visit to Kotdwar. "I promise you that I will return to Uttarakhand very soon. Then we will not meet in haste. We will sit together, talk at length, listen to your views and discuss the way forward for a better future for the state," he said.

Gandhi's June 4-5 itinerary included a public meeting in Almora, an interaction with ex-servicemen in Pauri, a visit to Kotdwar to meet Mohammad Deepak, and meetings with Congress leaders and office-bearers in Dehradun.

Kuki outfit ups ante, opposes SIR in Manipur

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Guwahati

THE Kuki organisation Kuki Inpi Manipur (KIM) on Thursday opposed the ongoing Special Intensive Revision (SIR) of electoral rolls in the violence-hit state, protesting the alleged exclusion of internally displaced persons (IDPs) from the community.

KIM said the SIR exercise in Manipur was unacceptable under the prevailing circumstances, and it raised serious concerns regarding fairness, inclusivity, and administrative responsibility. The organisation said it had expected the government to first put in place adequate and practical arrangements to address the situation of around 59,000 Kuki-Zo IDPs, who continued to remain displaced and were unable to return to their homes to participate in the SIR exercise.

"Proceeding with such a critical electoral and administrative exercise without ensuring the participation of a large and vulnerable section of the population undermines the very principles of democratic representation. The exclusion, whether direct or indirect, of these IDPs from the SIR process renders the exercise incomplete and unacceptable in its present form," KIM stated in a statement.

Modi govt turned NE into a hub of opportunities: Shah

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @ Guwahati

UNION Home Minister Amit Shah on Thursday credited the Narendra Modi government for turning the Northeast from a region of disputes into a hub of opportunities. "The Modi government ended the era of violence in the Northeast and transformed the region from a hotspot of disputes to a hotspot of opportunities," Shah said, addressing the 73rd plenary session of the North Eastern Council (NEC) in Meghalaya capital Shillong.

"The NEC is serving as an institution for strategic planning for the development of the region, while fulfilling people's aspirations and promoting culture," he added.

Shah instructed the Northeast CMs to shift their focus from law and order to shielding the rights of people, as insurgency is no longer an issue. The Home Minister, who is scheduled to review India-Bangladesh border security in Tripura on Friday, directed the states to build AI, machine learning and blockchain infrastructure for new generations. He also told them to market the region's potential in agarwood, foreign trade and health tourism.

Union Minister of Development of North Eastern Region Jyotiraditya M Scindia outlined five missions, such as high-resolution village resource mapping, monitoring of wetlands, forests, rivers and landscapes, support for geo-spatial and space-tech start-ups, NER-Shield for disaster resilience and early warning, and green wealth and natural capital accounting. "We remain committed to leveraging innovation and space-enabled solutions for a stronger and more resilient Northeast," he said.

'Build AI, machine learning and blockchain infra'

The Home Minister, who is scheduled to review India-Bangladesh border security in Tripura on Friday, directed the states to build AI, machine learning and blockchain infrastructure for new generations.

In a memorandum submitted to the home minister, Meghalaya CM Conrad K Sangma said "We suggested that measures such as the Meghalaya Residents Safety and Security Act and the Inner Line Permit, for which the Assembly passed resolutions, could serve as viable mechanisms to check illegal immigration," Sangma said. He sought inclusion of Khasi and Garo languages in the Eighth Schedule of the Constitution.

'Green revolution in Gujarat's semiconductor city'

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA
@ Ahmedabad

GUJARAT'S Dholera town, located about 100km south of Ahmedabad, has established itself as an emerging hub for new industry. As it consolidates its position as a semiconductor manufacturing powerhouse, a quiet green revolution is unfolding alongside.

Amid the scorching heat, saline soil and barren coastal plains of Dholera Special Investment Region in Ahmedabad district, a lush patch of greenery has emerged at its Block No. 29. Backed by funding from the Dholera Special Investment Region Development Authority (DSIRDA) and implemented by the Ahmedabad Social Forestry Division of the Gujarat Forest Department, the project has transformed land where even grass struggles to survive into a thriving ecosystem filled with trees.

Spread across the harsh terrain are more than 3,200 trees belonging to 15 different species, all planted using the "drum plantation" technique. The achievement is significant because Dholera's coastal landscape presents some of the most difficult conditions for plantation. Deputy conservator of forests Minal Jani said, "The soil here has extremely high electro-conductivity, very low carbon content and excessive salinity. Adding to that, the place remains waterlogged for nearly six months every year. Under such conditions, conventional plantation methods simply do not work."

Green stretch in barren landscape of Dholera industrial hub

To overcome these obstacles, forest officials adopted an innovative solution. "We introduced the drum plantation technique, where saplings are planted inside specially prepared plastic drums. The drums are filled with multiple layers of sand, nutrient-rich soil, vermicompost, stubble and cocopeat. This protects the roots from direct exposure to saline soil, while providing a healthy growing environment," Jani explained.

The drums were embedded approximately one foot into the ground and fitted with ventilation holes on both sides to ensure adequate airflow and root development. The project received crucial support from DSIRDA, which supplied sweet water for irrigation. A drip irrigation network was subsequently installed, ensuring every sapling received controlled watering despite the region's hostile climate.

The results have exceeded expectations. Planted in August 2025, many of the saplings have already grown up to 12 feet tall in less than a year. "Nearly all the saplings have survived. Some trees have even started bearing fruits. We are now witnessing the return of pollinators to areas that were once completely barren," Jani said.

The plantation includes a diverse mix of native and climate-resilient species. such as pilu, kesudo, shimalo, paras piplo, banyan, peepal, neem, and tamarind among others.

Major setback to Oppn as MahaYuti to win 6 of 17 MLC seats unopposed

SUDHIR SURYAVANSHI @ Mumbai

IN a major setback for opposition Maha Vikas Aghadi (MVA), the BJP-led Mahayuti alliance secured six of the 17 seats in the biennial Maharashtra Legislative Council (MLC) elections unopposed. In addition, the opposition failed to field candidates against ruling alliance nominees in two seats.

Among those elected unopposed was BJP candidate Arun Lakhani from the Wardha-Gadchiroli-Chandrapur constituency. Lakhani is the father-in-law of the daughter of NCP (SP) Lok Sabha MP Supriya Sule. NCP candidate Pravin Kakade was elected unopposed from the Pune MLC seat, while Shiv Sena candidate Ravindra Phatak won unopposed in Thane.

In the Raigad-Ratnagiri-Sindhudurg constituency, Aniket Tatkare, son of NCP state president Sunil Tatkare, was elected unopposed. Shiv Sena candidate Dushyant Chaturvedi was elected unopposed from Yavatmal, and BJP candidate Prajakta Tanpure was elected unopposed from the Ahilya Nagar MLC seat.

Elections will now be held for 11 of the 17 seats. Since the opposition failed to field candidates in two constituencies, direct contests between Mahayuti and Maha Vikas Aghadi will take place in the remaining nine seats. Mahayuti managed to pacify rebel candidates and also secured the withdrawal of some opposition candidates, helping its nominees gain an advantage in MLC elections.

Shiv Sena (UBT) was forced to expel three of its nominated candidates after they refused to contest the elections and withdrew from the race against ruling alliance candidates. The party said Bala Mane, Krishna Dongaonkar, and Devyani Dongaonkar were expelled for anti-party activities.

In Jalgaon, however, Mahayuti failed to persuade rebel candidate Reshma Kale to withdraw. The Shiv Sena rebel remains in the contest against BJP nominee Nandkishore Mahajan. The seat will also see a challenge from Shiv Sena (UBT) candidate Sharad Tayde.

Hezbollah rejects truce, demands full Israeli withdrawal

BEIRUT

HEZBOLLAH's chief on Thursday rejected a conditional truce announced by Lebanese and Israeli envoys, demanding instead a comprehensive ceasefire and full Israeli withdrawal as he threatened northern Israel with new attacks.

Naim Qassem's message came after Lebanese and Israeli representatives in the United States agreed to a conditional ceasefire that Lebanon's president called the "last chance" for a durable end to the fighting. Lebanon was drawn into the wider West Asia war when Hezbollah attacked Israel to avenge the February 28 killing of Iran's supreme leader.

Hezbollah has rejected the Israel-Lebanon talks, and a previous ceasefire announced on April 17 has been breached daily, with Israeli troops deployed deep inside Lebanese territory and the Iran-backed militants continuing to attack Israel.

"The ceasefire must be comprehensive... without the Israeli enemy having the freedom to kill," Qassem said Thursday, urging the government to halt "the farce and humiliation called direct talks" with Israel.

He also vowed that "as long as our villages are unsafe — being bombed, destroyed and our people killed — the settlements (north Israel) are unsafe".

The speech followed new Israeli strikes on Lebanon and fresh threats against Beirut by Israeli Defence Minister Israel Katz, who said that the army will "at this stage, continue its fire and ground operations... without the return of the population, while continuing to dismantle terrorist infrastructure".

Israeli forces also retain the "freedom of action, with American backing, to strike in Beirut in response to fire on Israeli communities and territory", he added.

Speaking on condition of anonymity, a Hezbollah official told AFP the group had informed the Lebanese government of its rejection of the truce agreement.

In south Lebanon, a United Nations peacekeeper was killed and two others were wounded, the UNIFIL force said, after a base was hit the previous night. Belgrade said the slain peacekeeper was Serbian, with seven blue helmets now killed since the latest war erupted in March. Israel blamed Hezbollah for his death.

Lebanon's state-run National News Agency (NNA) reported strikes in more than 20 locations in Lebanon's south and east on Thursday, some causing casualties, including a couple and their daughter who were wounded in an attack on their car. AFP

Israel court overturns ICRC prison visit ban

JERUSALEM: Israel's Supreme Court has struck down a ban preventing International Committee of the Red Cross (ICRC) delegates from visiting Palestinian detainees, saying authorities failed to justify the restriction imposed after the October 7, 2023 Hamas attack. The ICRC welcomed the ruling and said it was ready to resume visits, stressing that access to detainees is required under international law. Israel had suspended visits, accusing the organisation of failing to secure access to hostages in Gaza.

Khamenei claims victory, says foes dealt 'decisive blow'

TEHRAN

IRAN's supreme leader said Thursday that the United States and Israel had been dealt a "decisive blow" in the West Asia war, after the government reported "no tangible progress" in negotiations on ending the conflict.

Ayatollah Mojtaba Khamenei's message, read out by a prayer leader at a ceremony marking the anniversary of the death of the Islamic republic's founder, came after the US House of Representatives passed a resolution seeking to halt American military action in Iran.

Weeks of talks marked by threats and flare-ups of violence have failed to secure a deal to end the war and reopen the Strait of Hormuz, a key conduit for global energy flows. The US and Iran have sent divergent messages, with Tehran insisting on steep conditions for progress, even as President Donald Trump again voiced optimism, telling reporters a deal "could happen... over the weekend".

In his message, Khamenei said his country's enemies, after "facing a decisive blow", were now "experiencing a deeply meaningful and profound humiliation". Khamenei has not been seen in public since being wounded in strikes that killed his father and predecessor Ali Khamenei in the opening salvo of the US-Israeli bombing campaign on February 28. Since 1989, Khamenei had addressed the annual June 4 commemoration of Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini's death. This year, an empty chair bearing his portrait stood at the mausoleum.

The UN's nuclear agency said in a confidential report seen by AFP on Thursday that a lack of access to verify nuclear material in Iran posed a "proliferation concern", calling on the Islamic republic to "engage the agency constructively". AFP

US House votes to box in Trump on further military action in Iran war

KUWAIT CITY

THE US House of Representatives has backed a resolution seeking to halt American military action in Iran — a symbolic move that deals a political blow to US President Donald Trump as efforts to find a deal with Tehran stagnate.

Weeks of complicated talks marked by sharp rhetoric and flare-ups of violence have not managed to reach a deal to end the war and reopen the Strait of Hormuz, which is essential to oil supplies. Washington and Tehran have sent divergent message in recent days, with Iran saying on Wednesday "no tangible progress" was made, while Trump again voiced optimism by telling reporters at the White House "it could happen... over the weekend."

But in the latest episode of violence, Kuwaiti officials said renewed hostilities on Wednesday included an Iranian drone strike on a passenger terminal at Kuwait international airport that killed one person and wounded 63. In the wake of the flare-ups, four lawmakers from Trump's Republican party joined Democrats on Wednesday to vote 215-208 in favour of the public rebuke.

The resolution was largely symbolic, as the US president can veto the measure if it gains Senate approval. "This is a loud and unambiguous message to Donald Trump on behalf of the American people: it's time to end his deeply unpopular and illegal war of choice in Iran," Democrats posted on X.

At a congressional hearing, US Secretary of State Marco Rubio said Iran's highly enriched uranium stockpiles were at the centre of discussions with Tehran. Washington insists Tehran must turn over its near-weapons-grade enriched uranium, agree to curb its nuclear activities and re-open the Strait of Hormuz, the key shipping channel for Gulf oil and gas, for any peace agreement to take hold.

Iranian Foreign Minister Abbas Araghchi said lines of communication with the United States were still open but warned that any Israeli attack on the Lebanese capital Beirut as part of its campaign against Iran-backed Hezbollah would trigger a "full-scale resumption" of the conflict. AFP

EX-CIA AGENT SAYS PAK GAVE IRAN N-INFO TO U.S.

ISLAMABAD

FORMER Central Intelligence Agency analyst Larry Johnson claimed that Pakistan Deputy Prime Minister Ishaq Dar shared information about Iran's nuclear programme with US Secretary of State Marco Rubio during a recent meeting, a claim Islamabad rejected on Thursday.

WAR WATCH

Johnson, quoting an unnamed source, claimed that Dar had a conversation with Rubio that "revealed what Iran is prepared to do to preserve its independence", which allegedly "alarmed" the top US diplomat. Foreign Office spokesperson Tahir Andrabi rejected reports that Dar, who is also the foreign minister, exchanged information about Iran's nuclear programme with Rubio during their meeting in Washington on May 29.

"No such information was shared," Andrabi said.

Dar's meeting with Rubio came during a brief visit to Washington days after the Quad foreign ministers' meeting in New Delhi. Following the talks, Rubio said the two sides agreed on the importance of working together to further strengthen a meaningful partnership for better security and prosperity.

The Pakistan Foreign Office said both countries agreed to enhance cooperation in areas of mutual interest, including trade and investment, security and counter-terrorism. PTI

Illegal care home fire kills 12 in Sri Lanka; owner held

COLOMBO

THE owner of an illegally operated care home in Sri Lanka was remanded in custody Thursday, a day after a fire killed 12 residents and injured six others, officials said.

Isuru Anushka, of the Maupiya Sewana home, was ordered to be held until June 11 as investigations opened into Wednesday's fire, one of the deadliest on the island for decades. A magisterial inquiry into the incident was told by officials that the facility was not authorised to operate as a care home and had not met the minimum standards set by regulators.

"Police have been ordered to investigate violations of regulations governing the care of the elderly," an officer told reporters following a preliminary court hearing. The inquiry was also told that 11 residents of the home were burnt to death at the home, while the 12th victim succumbed to severe burns at a local hospital. Another six escaped with complications from smoke inhalation. Forensic experts combing the wreckage of the single-storey building found seven more charred bodies on Thursday, raising the death toll from five to 12. An AFP photographer saw the owner in handcuffs being escorted to the scene on Thursday, as police interviewed survivors and neighbours. AFP

New Zealand lawmakers barred from China over their Taiwan visit

WELLINGTON: China has banned four New Zealand lawmakers from travelling to China, Hong Kong and Macau for a year after they visited Taiwan on a parliamentary trip, according to messages conveyed through parliamentary officials. Beijing also demanded an apology and said the ban could be lifted if the lawmakers complied. China confirmed the sanctions, saying those who crossed the "red line" on Taiwan must "pay the price". Two lawmakers rejected the demand, while New Zealand said it would raise concerns with Beijing. Foreign Minister Winston Peters' office said the visit was consistent with Wellington's One China policy. Australia also criticised the move, saying pressure on parliamentarians was inappropriate.

Kim unveils nuclear fuel facility, pledges expansion of plant

SEOUL

NORTH Korea on Thursday unveiled a new facility to produce nuclear bomb fuels, with leader Kim Jong Un announcing plans to bolster the country's nuclear forces "at an exponential rate."

Some experts still question whether North Korea has functioning nuclear missiles that can reach the US mainland. But the nuclear plant's disclosure implies that Kim is eager to cement his country's status as a nuclear power and has no intentions of placing his bomb program on a negotiating table. After visiting the site on Wednesday, Kim said he and other top officials "confirmed the order of priority for implementing the ambitious future plan designed to beef up our state's nuclear forces at an exponential rate," according to the official Korean Central News Agency.

KCNA said the facility used "more sophisticated technology" but didn't provide further details like its location. South Korea's Joint Chiefs of Staff assessed the site as a uranium enrichment plant and said it was closely coordinating with the United States to monitor North Korean nuclear activities.

KCNA photos showed Kim walking through narrow aisles lined with dense rows of silver tubes and pipes, in what appeared to be a centrifuge hall. Another image showed him speaking with senior officials in a meeting room, where a blurred graphic depicting a cone-shaped object was spread across a table. It wasn't immediately clear whether the graphic showed a warhead design.

It's the third time that North Korea has disclosed a uranium enrichment site. In 2010, they showed one at its main Yongbyon nuclear complex to visiting American scholars, and in 2024, released photos of another covert uranium-enrichment plant, which experts believe was at its Kangson complex. AP

LIC holds 11% in Rajesh Exports, shares decline 5%

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

STATE-run Life Insurance Corporation of India (LIC) holds over 10.80% stake in Rajesh Exports, the jewellery exporting firm which has come under capital market regulator Sebi's lens for jacking up revenue numbers and concealing important information. Data available at the exchanges shows LIC, which is also the country's largest institutional investor, has maintained a stake of 10.80%-11.18% since March 2023 even as Rajesh Exports' shares have fallen by 49% in the last one year and crashed 90% from its peak level in February 2023.

At current share prices of about ₹104 and a mcap of ₹3,068 crore, value of LIC holdings in Rajesh Exports stands at about ₹340 crore.

Shareholding pattern shows LIC is the sole domestic institutional investor (DII) to have an exposure in Rajesh Exports, with banks and mutual funds having nil holding. The high exposure of LIC in the Bengaluru-based firm has led to sharp political reaction from the main opposition party. The Congress on Thursday questioned LIC's investment in Rajesh Exports and asked whether the acquisition of such a large holding was influenced by directions from the ruling establishment.

On the contrary, FIIs have trimmed their holdings in Rajesh Exports over past few years, with overall FII ownership falling from 17.60% in March 2023 to 14.26% by March 2026. At the end of the March quarter, Bridge India Fund (8.46%) was the largest FII in the company. Promoter group, led by Rajesh Jasvantrai Mehta, hold 54.6% stake in the company while public holding stands at 20.4%.

The Sebi has barred Rajesh Exports chairman and MD Rajesh Mehta from the capital market, alleging large-scale financial misrepresentation, disclosure lapses and non-cooperation with an investigation into the company's financial statements.

Based on its preliminary findings, Sebi alleged Rajesh Exports had misrepresented ₹15.15 lakh crore of revenues attributable to subsidiaries during FY21-FY25, 99.8% of such revenues. The Sebi said the disclosures appeared to have presented an inflated and misleading picture of the group's operational scale and financial health to investors.

Inflated revenues, says Sebi

Based on its preliminary findings, Sebi alleged that Rajesh Exports had misrepre_sented ₹15.15 lakh crore of revenues attributable to subsidiaries during FY21-FY25, representing nearly 99.8% of such revenues

Rajesh Exports denies rule violation

Rajesh Exports on Thursday denied any financial irregularities, saying that its reported revenues were correct and that there seemed to be a communication gap between the markets regulator and the firm.

Economists peg FY26 growth at 7.3%

Analysts say while the West Asia crisis created some pressure, its impact on growth remained limited in FY26

PUSPITA DEY @ New Delhi

THE ongoing war in West Asia may not have dented the fourth quarter GDP growth as most analysts see the economy growing over 7% during the period. The government is set to release GDP data for both the final quarter of FY26 and the full fiscal year on Friday.

The analysts and economists indicated that while the West Asia crisis created some pressure during the final month of the fiscal year, its impact on overall growth remained limited in FY26. However, they cautioned that the trickle-down effects could become more visible in the coming quarters.

State Bank of India (SBI) has estimated Q4FY26 growth at about 7.2%, while FY26 growth could remain at about 7.5%. In its report, SBI projected India's GDP growth for FY27 at 6.6%.

Ratings agency ICRA expects growth to moderate sharply to 7% in Q4FY26 from 7.8% in the previous quarter, citing slower manufacturing activity, contraction in exports, and emerging signs of pressure on corporate margins following developments in West Asia. It has projected full-year FY26 growth at 7.5%.

Indranil Pan, chief economist at YES Bank, said the impact of the West Asia conflict on growth would be relatively limited as the crisis affected only March, the last month of the fiscal year.

"Only March witnessed the impact of the West Asia crisis through higher oil and commodity prices. However, there was no pass-through of higher global oil prices to retail fuel prices, thereby protecting consumers. Thus, for the quarter, we see limited growth erosion due to the West Asia crisis, and this is also borne out by advance indicators on both the demand and production sides," Pan said.

> For the quarter (Q4), we see limited growth erosion due to the West Asia crisis, and this is also borne out by advance indicators on both the demand and production sides
> Indranil Pan, chief economist, YES Bank

YES Bank estimates Q4FY26 GDP growth at 7.4%. Rajni Thakur, chief economist at L&T Finance, said, "We expect the Q4 estimate to be around 7.2-7.3%, with the full-year growth estimate also broadly at 7.3%."

Thakur noted that March accounted for only one month at the tail end of the fiscal year. However, some impact was observed in sectors such as restaurants, trade, ceramics and certain high-technology industries. In addition, manufacturing activity was affected by disruptions such as gas shortages.

Consequently, the March data are likely to reflect some signs of strain.

Bank of Baroda has projected Q4FY26 growth in the range of 7.2-7.3%, but warned that the larger impact of the geopolitical crisis may become visible in FY27.

> We expect the Q4 estimate to be around 7.2-7.3%, with the full-year growth estimate also broadly at 7.3%

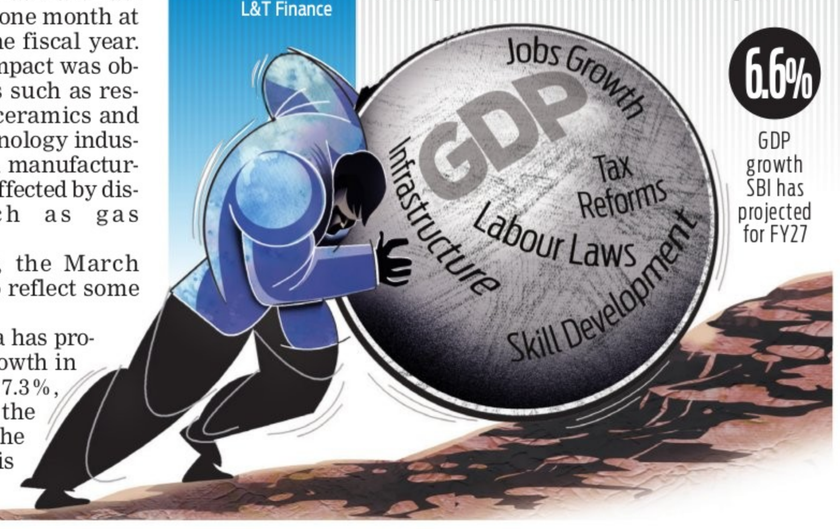
SBI SEES Q4 GROWTH AT 7.2%

SBI has estimated Q4FY26 growth at about 7.2%, while FY26 growth could remain at about 7.5%. In its report, SBI projected India's GDP growth for FY27 at 6.6%.

ICRA EXPECTS 7% Q4 GROWTH

ICRA expects growth will moderate to 7% in Q4FY26 from 7.8% in the previous quarter, citing slower manufacturing activity, fall in exports, and signs of pressure on corporate margins



INVESTMENTS

HDFC MF IMPOSES CURBS ON GOLD ETF

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

HDFC Mutual Fund has imposed temporary curbs on investments in its gold exchange-traded fund (ETF) schemes amid heightened interest in gold-backed assets. The fund house said it will stop accepting subscription transactions from large investors directly into HDFC Gold ETF from June 8, 2026. The curbs will apply to investors making direct investments of at least ₹25 crore with the mutual fund.

Lumpsum purchases and switch-ins into HDFC Gold ETF Fund of Fund (FOF) will be processed up to ₹10 lakh per PAN per calendar month at the first-holder level. The cap will apply to transactions received after cut-off time of 3 pm on June 5. HDFC MF said the measures are being introduced in light of prevailing economic and market conditions and will remain in force until further notice.

The move comes at a time when gold has emerged as one of the preferred safe-haven assets amid global geopolitical uncertainties, currency volatility and concerns over economic growth. Rising gold prices have also attracted significant investor flows into gold ETFs and related schemes.

₹10,000 cr ATF price stabilisation fund for airlines optional: Govt

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

THE government on Thursday said that the ₹10,000 crore price stabilisation fund for jet fuel would be optional for domestic airlines, and the base rates, exclusive of all taxes, would be ₹86.32 a litre for domestic flights and ₹104.49 per litre for international flights.

As per Rohit Raj, director, Ministry of Civil Aviation, after accounting for levies like value-added tax (VAT) and excise duty, eventual price would be ₹115 per litre under the fund for both domestic and overseas flights. He said once an airline signs a MoU for support under the fund, it would have to pay fixed rates even if global rates fall. The official added that airlines would be able to exit the scheme only after paying their outstanding dues.

"Under the new mechanism... we are moving towards a fixed price mechanism.. that is fixed at FOB level, where we are excluding certain charges and taxes, mainly VAT, excise duty, airport charges, and a fixed differential, which is domestic freight and insurance and profit margin of OMC. After that, we arrive at a price under the scheme. For domestic operation, it is fixed at ₹86.32 and for global operation it is fixed at ₹104.49," he said, adding, "If we take Delhi as an example, ₹115 is the fixed selling price at Delhi for domestic and international".

VAT on ATF for domestic flights differs across states, he said: "If we take example of Mumbai, prices of ATF under this arrangement, selling price would be ₹114.5 and if you go to Chennai, because there VAT rates are high, it is about ₹139."

Amid soaring aviation fuel prices triggered by the West Asia conflict, the government on Wednesday approved a budgetary support of ₹10,000 crore for oil marketing companies (OMCs) to help stabilise ATF prices for domestic airlines.

FTA

India and US finish latest round of talks

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE US trade delegation that visited India from June 1-4 held talks on a range of issues, including trade in goods, non-tariff measures, Customs and trade facilitation, economic security alignment, and other areas of mutual interest, commerce ministry said on Thursday.

A delegation from the Office of the United States Trade Representative (USTR), led by its chief negotiator, concluded discussions on the proposed bilateral trade agreement (BTA) with commerce minister Piyush Goyal and the Indian negotiating team on Wednesday.

During the visit, officials from both sides held negotiations on market access and trade-related issues. The ministry had earlier indicated the discussions would focus on addressing tariff issues linked to potential US actions under Section 301 and securing competitive tariff treatment for Indian exports vis-a-vis other economies.

"During the visit, the teams held constructive and positive discussions across a wide range of issues covering trade in goods, non-tariff measures, customs and trade facilitation, economic security alignment, and other areas of mutual interest. The engagements were marked by a spirit of cooperation and pragmatism, with both sides reaffirming their commitment to concluding a mutually beneficial agreement that strengthens bilateral trade and economic ties," the ministry said. This was the second in-person meeting between two sides since India and the US agreed on February 7 to pursue a framework for a reciprocal trade agreement.

Ethanol blending push: MSIL unveils flex-fuel car

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

MARUTI Suzuki India (MSIL) on Thursday unveiled India's first flex-fuel car – a Wagon R hatchback– which can run on any blend of ethanol and petrol from E20 to E100. The country's largest carmaker, however, did not disclose prices or availability of the flex fuel vehicle.

The launch of Maruti's flex fuel model comes a day after Hero MotoCorp launched two Flex Fuel vehicles - the Splendor+ and HF Deluxe – amid the Centre's push for a higher blend of ethanol in petrol.

The launches by two leading automakers in their respective markets come weeks after the Centre notified new fuel standards for petrol blended with up to 30% ethanol as it looks to cut crude oil imports and expand domestic biofuels ecosystem.

Union Minister of Petroleum and Natural Gas Hardeep Singh Puri said 500 petrol pumps across Delhi-NCR, Mumbai, Pune, and Nagpur will dispense E85, a fuel blend containing 85% ethanol and 15% petrol, by the end of 2026. To begin with, 50-100 dispensing station outlets will be made available in Delhi-NCR, Mumbai, Pune, and the Nagpur corridor. This will be expanded to 500 by December this year and to 5,000 outlets across major cities by the end of next year.

Puri said flex fuel vehicle launches will provide momentum to India's 'Aatmanirbhar' Ethanol blending quest, which stood at 1.5% in 2014, reached the milestone of 20%, and now looks beyond. "If 50% of two and four-wheeler sales in India shift to Flex fuel, it will lead to 311.8 crore litres of additional ethanol demand, ₹12,403 crore additional income for farmers, ₹1,672.3 crore saving in foreign exchange and 66.4 lakh tonne less CO emissions," he said at the launch event.

200 MW of green energy plants stalled: Industry

SANAL SUDEVAN @ Chennai

AS the Tamil Nadu Green Energy Corporation Ltd (TNGECL) issued notification recently not to sign on any approval papers for commissioning solar and wind energy projects in the state, industry leaders say nearly 200 MW of ready-to-commission renewable energy plants have been stalled.

Majority of these plants have received safety certificates from the government departments. Recently, the TNGECL issued notification to the Superintending Engineers not to approve any estimates and sign in any of the related papers of the applications in the solar and wind connectivity, alleging irregularities. This came against the backdrop of the government's decision on May 21 to launch an online portal "SAMAST" within three days with an aim to bring transparency in commissioning of solar and wind energy projects within the state. Moreover, the department has seen two major reshuffles in top deck within a span of a week.

Speaking to TNIE, a Chennai-based solar energy producer said the company has received safety certificates nearly 20 days and the validated has 30 days.

GCCs shifting towards contract hiring for AI talent

PADMINI DHRUVARAJ @ Bengaluru

INDIA'S global capability centres (GCCs) are increasingly hiring AI and engineering talents via contract and project-based models, driven by demand for specialised skills and faster deployment as companies move away from traditional workforce expansion towards flexible, outcome-focused teams.

> Clients are moving toward outcome-based project pods and specialist AI squads instead of traditional long-term staffing mandates
>
> Kapil Joshi, CEO, IT Staffing at Quess Corp

Industry executives say the shift has become more pronounced, mainly across AI, cloud, cybersecurity, data engineering and product engineering roles. "Over the last 18 months, GCCs have moved toward more agile and blended workforce models, mainly across AI, digital engineering and cloud transformation mandates," said Milind Shah, MD – India, Randstad Digital.

While leadership and core capability roles continue to be filled via permanent hiring, demand for project-based specialists and niche engineering talent has gone up as AI adoption accelerates and transformation timelines get shorter, he added.

As per Kapil Joshi, CEO, IT Staffing, Quess Corp, contractual talent accounts for 25% of the GCC workforce, up from 18% two years ago, while 69% of GCC employers have adopted flexible staffing models.

"The reason behind this shift is the growing demand for deployment-ready talent," Joshi said. "Today GCCs are prioritising professionals with 6+ years of hands-on expertise in niche and super-specialised areas like GenAI, MLOps, LLM fine-tuning, cloud automation, FinOps, SRE, and cybersecurity."

The move towards flexible hiring is changing how projects are delivered with clients increasingly seeking outcome-based project teams and specialist AI squads rather than traditional long-term staffing arrangements. "Clients are increasingly moving toward outcome-based project pods and specialist AI squads instead of traditional long-term staffing mandates," Joshi said.

He added that commercial models are evolving, with engagements no longer based only on headcount and resource hours but increasingly incorporating technology usage, AI platform costs, token consumption and outcome-linked delivery. Shah said GCCs are looking for smaller, multidisciplinary teams capable of solving specific business challenges, accelerating AI adoption within defined timelines rather than only scaling the workforce.

However, this is not slowing down AI based hiring. Neeti Sharma, CEO of TeamLease Digital, said "AI hiring is growing at about 60% YoY, driven by project-based pilots and transformation tracks that suit flexible models," Sharma said.

INDIA'S No. 3 MUSICAL CHAIR

After Sai Sudharsan, now Padikkal seems to be in the mix to take up the important slot

GOMESH S @Chennai

IT has been more than a hundred hours since Royal Challengers Bengaluru won their second Indian Premier League title. While RCB fans continue to feel the joy, Indian cricket has quietly moved on. The white balls and big sixes are shelved with the Test regulars turning towards their cream clothing and red cherry for the weekend. With India set to take the field against Afghanistan in a one-off Test on Saturday, there seems to be a fair bit to unpack despite it not being a part of the World Test Championship. These are truly testing times for India in red-ball cricket. The last time they were on the field for a Test, it ended in a hammering with India losing the Test series 0-2 to South Africa.

Before their next WTC assignment, which is in Sri Lanka in August, head coach Gautam Gambhir and captain Shubman Gill would want to use this one off Test as a chance to find some answers. Perhaps, the biggest of them all — who is India's No 3? Once a traditional spot that was held dearly and passed on from Rahul Dravid to Cheteshwar Pujara, the spot is not the same anymore. India, since Pujara's last Test, have tried out seven players in 28 games. Gill seemed to own the place, but soon after being named captain he moved to No 4. Since then, India have tried three players, none more than B Sai Sudharsan (six games), at the spot. Now, as they gear up for the one-off Test, there seems to be another name in the mix — Devdutt Padikkal. With just two Tests in his career — he batted at No 4 on debut when Virat Kohli was missing and No 3 in Perth when Gill was injured — if the Karnataka captain plays the Test, it is likely to be No 3. Since Padikkal's last Test, Sai Sudharsan was handed his cap and has been India's No 3 in six matches.

However, his record of 302 runs at 27.45 average with two fifties has been sub-par. And soon, Gambhir, who has been trying to use Washington Sundar more with the bat, promoted the off-spinning all-rounder to No 3 in the first Test against South Africa. When that did not work, Gambhir brought back Sai Sudharsan, but he failed to make the most of it. Now, with the upcoming Test, whether Sai Sudharsan's gets selected remains a big question. Padikkal, on the other hand lead Karnataka to the Ranji Trophy final batting at No 3. In six matches, he amassed 543 runs at 60.33 average, The left-hander's ability to take down spinners is also a crucial factor. Not too long ago, Padikkal got his first Test call-up after a stellar show against Tamil Nadu spinners for the England series which featured Tom Hartley. Now, will he get to play ahead of incumbent Sai Sudharsan? Or will the musical chair continue?

When such questions were put forth in front of assistant coach Ryan ten Doeschate, he said that they have to pick someone and give them a longer rope. "There's been a lot of changes in that spot and that's not ideal. I think you need to look at the incumbents for that role and maybe stick with someone. It's a difficult position to bat and a very important position to bat," Ten Doeschate told reporters in New Chandigarh on Thursday.

"Dev comes in with a ton of runs in domestic cricket across all the formats. Obviously, Sai has had a nice T20 IPL with Gujarat. They are both in good form. I think whoever plays, they will be given a bit of rope. It's quite difficult with one Test now and then we don't play a Test for another two months and then you play two Tests and you don't play for a while. We need to factor that in. I think the main point is we want to make a decision and then trust that person to grow into the role. Ideally quickly because where we find ourselves in the WTC table, obviously, we don't have time to bet now. Something we could have done better leading up to this is nailing down that number three spot," he added.

It is often said that the first step towards solving the problem is acknowledging that there is one. The Indian team management seems to be aware of it. Now, it is time for them to take the next step and give their picked No 3 a longer rope.

Kohli set to miss ODIs, uncertainty over Rohit

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Chennai

WHILE the official word is yet to come, it seems like Virat Kohli is set to miss the upcoming Afghanistan ODIs with uncertainty looming over Rohit Sharma's participation.

Kohli, who last played for Royal Challengers Bengaluru in the Indian Premier League final, reportedly picked up a hamstring injury on Sunday. In some videos on social media after RCB's title win, Kohli could be seen indicating his hamstring towards the dugout. Now, the 37-year-old, who is a one-format player for India, is set to miss the three ODIs against Afghanistan, but is expected to be fit for the England tour.

If Kohli missing puts a dampener for the fans, uncertainty over Rohit's fitness only adds to it. The former skipper, whose participation was subject to fitness when the squad was named, had missed a handful of games during the IPL due to hamstring injury. Though there is more than a week left for the series, that Rohit is yet to be declared fit has raised a cloud of uncertainty. Similarly, Hardik Pandya's availability is also subject to fitness.

"Official communication will come on that. It's obviously big news when it's someone like Virat and Rohit. But the same protocols will be in place. We will assess the fitness of those guys. We have got a few days now to decide whether they are fit enough to play and be part of the squad and make adjustments accordingly. But I'm sure some official communication will come through as soon as the medical team has made a decision on that," assistant coach Ryan ten Doeschate told reporters in New Chandigarh on Thursday. The said adjustments and final call will be taken when the selection committee meets to pick the squad for the England and Ireland tours.

In the same meeting, a new T20I captain is also expected to be announced. The two veterans have made their intentions clear on playing the 2027 ODI World Cup. However, both head coach Gautam Gambhir and chief selector Ajit Agarkar have remained non-committal on their future with the Indian team.

'Would have loved to have some school/college friends'

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @Oslo

R PRAGGNANANDHAA is thinking. He doesn't have a chess board in front of him but he is still careful about the words he wants to use. The question, in a microcosm, explains the kind of dichotomy of an elite Indian chess player. "Are there times when you think 'I wish I had a normal childhood, somebody who went to school or college?'"

"I don't really regret it but of course, I would have loved to have some school or college friends back home (in Chennai). But you have to give (up) certain things (to achieve certain things). When you are going for bigger things... I'm happy with how things are right now." He's speaking to Indian media on the second of the two rest days at Norway Chess, a day before the ninth round.

When the obvious follow up is asked — when you are back home, do you tend to hang out with, say, a (D) Gukesh or an Arjun (Erigaisi)? — The answer revealed a lot. "No, I think we look at each other too much during the tournament (smiles). It's usually, like, when I'm going out (in Chennai), my sister is there, my family is there." Considering he sees a lot of his sister (R Vaishali, who's also an elite chess player) during tournaments, is he okay with that? "When you are a brother-sister, there's no escape (smiles)."

He's truly grateful for this life he has built thanks to his sui generis talent on the board — "If I had gone to school, then I probably wouldn't be here," — but he admits to being burnt out in 2025 when he decided to criss-cross countries every other week for months on end to achieve his goal of qualifying for the Candidates. "I think at some point you are just burnt out," the 20-year-old says.

That feeling of mental exhaustion was normal for the then teen as he chased FIDE circuit points in order to make the Candidates this year. "Now, I just want to chill and enjoy some chess," he says. That sense of enjoyment — where work is passion — stopped being a thing after he looked at the number of different stamps on his passport. "I can't really say when (I felt that burn out) but at some point I was. I counted like in three months, I had travelled to seven countries (to play chess). I think it's too much for anyone. It's not like you are going there to see the place, you are going there to fight in every tournament. So, yeah, it was mentally tiring but it was me, I was the one who signed up for all of these tournaments."

He signed up for these tournaments because the most viable path to the Candidates was to secure the Circuit spot for 2025. As soon as he had zeroed in on that path, he had no choice but to embrace an unforgiving cycle of hotel, new tournament, airport, hotel, new tournament, airport on an endless loop. "For the last two years, I only kept thinking about this cycle and nothing else," the Chennai boy says. "It's something (the disappointment of not qualifying for the title match) is something I have to deal with. I sort of gave everything I had to it. You can also see it from the tournaments I played last year and it's disappointing when it ends like this. Right now, I do want to think about the next two-year cycle."

One direct by product of this is that young Indian chess players can be tunnel-visioned. It's why there's a major difference between India's Generation Z and the ones from other countries. For example, Vincent Keymer, Alireza Firouzja and Javokhir Sindarov — all three Zoomers who have designs on winning the world title — have other interests apart from chess. It can potentially help take their mind off chess. At Norway Chess, they are not with their coaches so when they are out on their post dinner walks, it's just them, their headphones and a lazy stroll. When Gukesh or Pragg have been out on walks, it's been with their coaches.

Another illustration: chess isn't central to the identities of Firouzja or Sindarov. For Indian players who have grown up in this generation, there can be a tendency to push everything else into the background. Become world champion or go home. When this sentiment is put to Pragg for his thoughts, he straight away says he can only speak for himself. "I feel like sometimes I do focus too much on chess."

Hariharan-Arjun in Q/Fs, Sindhu and Ayush exit

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

MEN'S doubles combination of Hariharan Amsakarunan and MR Arjun upset higher ranked Malaysian duo Aaron Tai and Kang Khai Xing from a game down to reach their first ever Super 1000 quarterfinals in the ongoing Indonesia Open at Jakarta. Hari & Arjun defended the Malaysian duo 16-21, 21-15, 21-19.

While the opening game wasn't in the Indian's favour, they bounced back in the second from mid game to force a decider. Though trailing the final game until 16-17, they regained hold eventually sealing the victory at 48 minutes. They next face seventh seed Goh Sze Fei and Nur Izzuddin of Malaysia.

The Indian pair, currently ranked at World Number 30, gained spotlight earlier this year when they defeated former World No. 6 and World Championship medalists Ong Yew Sin and Teo Ee Yi of Malaysia at the India Open and were part of the bronze medal winning Thomas Cup team this year.

Earlier, two-time Olympic medallist PV Sindhu lost to An Se Young 17-21, 15-21 in women's singles. while Ayush Shetty was knocked out by Hong Kong's Lee Cheuk Yiu 21-16, 13-21, 14-21 in men's singles. 'Want to show power of Iranian players to world'

KHALIL HAMRA

IRAN is heading to the World Cup while the country is at war with the primary host nation, a situation that is unique in the tournament's history. In exclusive interviews with The Associated Press during a team camp in Turkey, two members of Iran's squad described how the conflict is affecting its World Cup preparations. "Well, to be honest, it's not easy," said Saeid Ezatolahi, a 29-year-old midfielder who also played for Iran in the 2018 and 2022 World Cups. "That's going to be my third World Cup. So for me and some of the other players, it might be easier to manage these kind of things," he said in English on the sidelines of a training session on Wednesday. "But at the end... it is going to be difficult for us because at the same time, we are following the news in our country and the political things, of course, can affect the mind of the players and the people." The Iran team has spent more than two weeks in Turkey, mostly practising at the coastal resort in Antalya, and some went to the capital Ankara to submit visa applications at the US embassy. Media access to their World Cup preparations has been limited, and the players rarely speak to international journalists.

Iranian team to be based in Mexico

The team is set to travel to Mexico this weekend after receiving visas from the Mexican embassy in Ankara. The team on Thursday said that the process of obtaining entry permits had been finalized for all members of the squad. Problems with visa processing meant Iran's World Cup training base was moved from Tucson, Arizona, to Tijuana, on Mexico's border with California.

Iran will play its first two games near Los Angeles, which has a large Iranian community, many of whom oppose the current government. "So for sure, we are expecting to have a lot fans during our games at the stadium," Ezatolahi said. "And this is going to be a lot pressure for us because the expectation is going be high. I just wish we can make them proud and show them that Iranians, they are prepared for every hard job in the world," he said. Mohammad Ghorbani, 24, is going to his first World Cup for Iran. "It's true that we are facing special circumstances right now but we are football players and we have to play, practice, and prepare ourselves for the competitions we have ahead," the Abu Dhabi-based player told the AP in Farsi.

"On the other hand, we know that our people have been going through a lot of difficulties throughout the war, and we are going there for them, to get the best results for their joy and the joy of the people of our country."

Ghorbani further went on to add, "We are showing that we are one team under one flag that can bring joy to our whole country, and to show the power of Iranian players and Iranian people to the world." AP

Chwalinska downs Shnaider, becomes first Qualifier to enter final

AGENCIES @Paris

POLISH world number 114 Maja Chwalinska made French Open history on Thursday as she beat Diana Shnaider in straight sets to become the first qualifier to go all the way to the final at Roland Garros in the professional era. The 24-year-old's 7-6 (7/4), 6-4 victory over Russian 25th seed Shnaider made her only the second woman to come through qualifying and reach a Grand Slam final in any major since the Open era began, after Emma Raducanu's title run at the US Open in 2021. Appearing in her first main draw in Paris, Chwalinska, who had on three previous occasions failed to qualify for Roland Garros, has won nine matches across her three-week French Open campaign to stand on the brink of glory. Chwalinska will meet Russian eighth seed Mirra Andreeva in Saturday's title-decider. "I don't know what's going on, I just, I dunno what to say. I'm sorry, I'm just very happy," she added to raucous applause on Court Philippe Chatrier.

One aspect of run to the final has been the ice-cold composure she has displayed on court across all her matches.

"I'm crazy sometimes also, yeah," Chwalinska said of her emotions. "But I try to stay composed because I know it's the best way for me... But inside there's a storm believe me."

In an intriguing clash of styles between the variety of Chwalinska's game and the power-hitting of Shnaider, it was the diminutive Pole who earned the first break to get 3-1 ahead.

Earlier, Andreeva beat an erratic Marta Kostyuk 6-1, 6-3. The 19-year-old Russian took one hour and 16 minutes to overcome her Ukrainian opponent.

"I'm still very, very nervous. I was very nervous coming into this match," said eighth-seeded Andreeva on court at the end.

Kostyuk, the 15th seed, had won her previous two meetings with Andreeva, both this year. The most recent was on clay in the final in Madrid as Kostyuk put together a 17-match unbeaten run on the red dirt coming into the Roland Garros last four. Yet, on Thursday, she quickly started to unravel against her teenage opponent.

The Gemini app has become one of Google's fastest-growing products, with more than 900 million monthly users, more than double the figure recorded a year ago, Sundar Pichai said

GOOGLE TO SPEND $190 BN ON AI INFRASTRUCTURE AS DEMAND OUTPACES SUPPLY: SUNDAR PICHAI

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

GOOGLE CEO Sundar Pichai has described artificial intelligence (AI) as the most significant technological shift of the current era, saying it is transforming every part of Google's business, from Search and Cloud to enterprise services.

Pichai said AI is driving growth across the company's operations and helping create new business opportunities. According to him, demand for Google's AI products and services is currently exceeding the company's available capacity. "The company is experiencing strong demand for its AI solutions and services from enterprises and consumers, at levels that are meaningfully exceeding available supply," he said.

Gemini expansion and new AI models

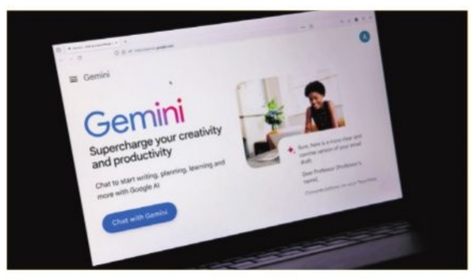
Pichai highlighted the rapid progress of Google's Gemini AI models, saying the company has continued to roll out more capable AI products and services since the launch of Gemini 3 last November.

Since launching Gemini 3, Google has introduced increasingly capable generative media models, expanded AI features across Chrome and the Gemini app, launched Antigravity, and released the first model in the Gemini 3.5 series.

Massive infrastructure investments

Pichai said supporting AI services for billions of users, developers and enterprises worldwide requires significant investments in computing infrastructure.

According to him, Google spent approximately $31 billion in capital expenditure in 2022. This year, the company expects that figure to rise to between $180 billion and $190 billion, nearly six times higher than 2022 levels and roughly double last year's spending. He added that capital expenditure is expected to increase further in 2027, with most of the investment directed toward technical infrastructure. To support these investments, Google plans to rely on a combination of strong operating cash flow, debt issuances and equity offerings.



AI business gains momentum

Pichai said Google's AI business continues to perform strongly as more users adopt the company's premium AI offerings, advanced models, expanded storage options and productivity tools.

According to him, Google recorded its strongest-ever quarter for consumer AI plans and remains well positioned to drive profitable growth through AI-related opportunities across advertising, subscriptions, cloud services, model development, infrastructure and real-world services.

Gemini 3.5 rollout underway

Pichai said Google recently launched Gemini 3.5 Flash and expects Gemini 3.5 Pro to become available in June.

The latest version includes improvements focused on agentic coding, long-horizon tasks and real-world capabilities.

Beyond Gemini, Google's generative media models are also witnessing strong adoption. Pichai noted that Nano Banana has been used to generate more than 50 billion images to date. The company also recently unveiled its latest Omni model during the I/O conference.

AI usage growing rapidly

Pichai said one way to measure the growth of AI is through tokens, the fundamental units of data processed by AI models.

According to him, Google was processing around 9.7 trillion tokens every month, two years ago. That figure has now surged to 3.2 quadrillion tokens per month, representing an increase of more than 300 times across Google's platforms.

He added that Gemini now powers all 13 Google products with more than one billion users, including five products that have crossed three billion users.

Search and Gemini App continue to grow

Pichai said Google's Search business is benefiting significantly from AI integration.

According to him, AI Overviews now reach more than 2.5 billion users every month, making Google Search one of the largest AI-powered consumer products globally. He also said AI Mode, which was launched a year ago, has already crossed one billion monthly users.

Streamers, advertisers turn to AI content

PADMINI DHRUVARAJ @ Bengaluru

ARTIFICIAL intelligence-generated content is moving from experimentation to commercial deployment across streaming platforms and advertising, with companies increasingly using AI to create shows, marketing campaigns and digital assets. The latest example comes from JioStar, the Reliance Industries and Disney-backed streaming venture, which plans to expand its use of AI-generated entertainment after the release of an AI-produced adaptation of the Mahabharata on JioHotstar.

The company is preparing a slate of series that will be written, animated, voiced and edited entirely by AI, while also hiring around 80 AI specialists and engineers.

The move follows the release of Mahabharat: Ek Dharmayudh, which attracted about 6.5 million views on its first day, according to reports. The development reflects a wider shift across the media industry, where companies are increasingly using generative AI as a production tool. AI is being used to create scripts, images, video, voiceovers and marketing materials, particularly for animation, short-form video and digital content. AI-generated entertainment is also beginning to appear outside traditional streaming platforms. Artlist recently launched an AI-only streaming service featuring programmes created entirely with generative AI tools. Streaming companies are also exploring the technology for advertising.

Netflix has announced plans to introduce AI-generated advertising formats within its ad-supported service. The company said the formats would allow advertising messages to be integrated more closely with content environments. Technology companies are also expanding AI tools for advertisers. Meta has introduced systems that allow brands to generate and modify advertising images and creative assets using AI. Amazon has rolled out generative AI tools that help advertisers create images and video content for campaigns. Large advertising groups are investing in AI platforms across their operations. WPP has expanded the use of its WPP Open platform, while Publicis Groupe has continued to develop its CoreAI system to support content creation, media planning and campaign management.
